W. H. M'KAGUE OF S. A. IN CUSTODY

Federal Officers Press Probe of Sweepstakes Ticket Promotion

A sweeping probe of a $5,000,000 sweepstakes swindle said to involve several very prominent Orange county men was being made today, following arrest of a second Santa Ana man in connection with a nation-wide lottery.

W. H. McKague, 906 South Van Ness street, former federal prohibition agent, was in jail in Los Angeles following his arrest here yesterday in connection with a Los Angeles sheriff's office investigation which last week caused arrest of three men and confiscation of $25,000 worth of assertedly fraudulent "sweepstakes" tickets. One of them, Howard Acheson, gave his residence as Santa Ana.

Planned Cleanup
McKague is the seventh man to be arrested in the investigation by county and federal officers, who say the sweepstakes ring hoped to take hundreds of thousands of dollars from Southern California by selling tickets on the Santa Anita Christmas day handicaps.

McKague, arrested here yesterday by Sheriff Logan Jackson and taken to Los Angeles for questioning, is suspected of being one of the leaders of the organization which printed thousands of tickets in Mexico and smuggled them across the border to Texas. The lottery was on a nation-wide scale, officers said.

Many Sold Here
Four thousand books of tickets with a face value of $48,000 were seized yesterday in Seattle, where two men were arrested. More than 18,000 of the tickets have been confiscated in Los Angeles, but thousands more are thought to be on sale and sold in Orange county and the rest of Southern California.

The tickets, offered for sale at (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

FIRES RAGING IN OREGON

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Fire fighters fought flames in the forests of western Oregon and southwestern Washington today while the eastern sections of the two states shivered under freezing temperatures.

Normally soaked with rains in November, the dense western forest areas were turned into perfect firewood by an unseasonable dry spell. While a wind spread flames today, fire lines were aided only by a fog so dense it grounded airplanes and slowed highway and ferry traffic.

Serious fires flared in Coos and Curry counties of Oregon in the region where flames wiped out the city of Bandon a month ago.

Severed Twin Still Living

NEW YORK. (AP)—The condition of Simplicio Godina, 28-year-old Siamese twin, was reported as favorable today by attaches of York hospital.

Godina was severed from his brother, Lucio, last Tuesday, after the latter had died of heart and lung ailments.

Symphony Turns to 'Swing'

PHILADELPHIA. (AP)—The patrician audience of the Academy of Music plainly was pleased today with its "vacation from culture" something of a "hey-monny-monny" and a "hot-cha-cha," produced in "swing" fashion from the instruments of the aristocratic Philadelphia Symphony orchestra and inspired by the yard-long baton of the rotund Paul Whiteman.

The generalissimo of jazz, only guest conductor of the orchestra this season, brought up his trick tonal artillery of gongs, accordions, pistols, clattering typewriters, guitar, banjo, saxophone and a few additional odds and ends, including four bagpipers in Scottish

Open Negotiations for Partial Resumption of Coast Shipping

Pumphouse Lady Pursued

'Gangsters' Throw Beer Cans on Her Lawn

By FRANK ORR

"Now we got 'gangsters.'"

And Mrs. Lucille Bates, who says she is being followed. Like the Spanish revolution, the far-flung Battle of the Pumphouse at Silver Acres is still raging. The insurgents still have the waterworks, and the water's still going, and Mrs. Bates, from whom the insurgents took the pumphouse last October by a coup, or something, still wants it back.

There is still resentment, Mrs. Bates claims she's being followed, and last night proved it. "Three men in a car tried to crowd us to the side of the road," she reported to police last night.

Visions of gangsters flashed before the eyes of Officers W. E. B. Sherwood and Ralph Pantuso. They took out in a cloud of dust, while Mrs. Bates and her husband, M. E. Bates, came along behind.

On West Fifth street, the police found a can, and three men. They brought them to the police station for investigation.

And in the back of the car, they found a club, a heavy wrench, and a man with a gun! But they found it wasn't illegal to have a club or a wrench, and the man, with the gun also had a permit to carry it and hadn't shot anybody recently.

The trio, not exactly friends of Mrs. Bates, is involved in the tangled business of "who's got the pumphouse?" Driver of the car, Howard H. Hoodman, is one of Mrs. Bates' principal hates, having been charged with battery late in October, after 37 thirsty families moved in on the pumphouse, escorted Mrs. Bates outside, and took over the plant.

The other two men were L. A. Green and Francis F. Sherman, police reported. Green was charged with trespassing at the time—but Sherman didn't appear. Or maybe he was one of the twenty-odd John Does appearing in the complaints, which were dismissed when the cases (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

FOOD MOVING TO HAWAII, ALASKA

Japanese Ship Taking Cargo And Mail To Isolated Islands

By the Associated Press
Negotiations looking toward partial resumption of Pacific coast shipping were resumed at San Francisco today when operators of more than 70 coastal freighters called a meeting with the Master, Mates and Pilots Union.

All unions but that one had signed agreements to operate government chartered ships to relieve the food shortage in strike-bound Alaska.

At Washington, Secretary Ickes announced the first boatload of foodstuffs would leave Seattle for Alaska about Nov. 30 on a government vessel. The ship selected was the 500-ton Boxer, operated by the bureau of Indian affairs.

Cargo for Hawaii
The Japanese vessel, Asama Maru, was en route to Honolulu today with 565 passengers, a "fast cargo" express, including fruit, tobacco and other commodities, and a quantity of U. S. mail, the contract cost of which was estimated at $90,000.

Meanwhile, at New York, two agreements were signed by striking seamen and companies operating three freight vessels. American steamship owners at New York denied there was any "blockade" of shipping on other than intercoastal lines.

Huge Losses Told
Two seamen from the American Hawaiian steamship, Virginia, strikebound at Charleston, S. C., were arrested on charges of interfering with labor. Arresting officers said they interfered with negro longshoremen unloading cargo. An estimate by the research department of the San Francisco chamber of commerce said $7,000,000 in goods was prevented from moving on the coast every 24 hours.

Actress Robbed Of $25,000 Gems

NEW YORK. (AP)—Gypsy Rose Lee, who strip-teased her way through a Broadway musical comedy, reported to police that she had been robbed of jewelry insured for $25,000 early today.

As she arrived at her apartment house by taxi, six men crowded her and a companion, as well as the taxi driver, into the vestibule of the building, and robbed her.

New Victim for 'Suicide Bridge'

PASADENA. (AP)—An unidentified man about 30 jumped to his death today from the famous Colorado street bridge over the Arroyo Seco.

Detective Lieutenants W. G. Crosby and W. O. Kelley said he was the 69th person to commit suicide in this fashion.

BRAND TRAPS HIT-RUN CAR

Trace Driver By Word Stamped on Bumper By Victim's Tire

The word "gold," spelled out in faint, dusty letters on a truck's bumper, today had sent Alonzo Rodriguez of Fullerton to the county jail for 50 days on a charge of hit-run driving.

His truck was identified through this marking as the one which yesterday struck a car driven by Mrs. W. F. Nielsen, 430 Linwood street, and fled without stopping to render aid.

Mrs. Nielsen called police at First and Main streets just after the crash. She described the truck which hit her car, and motorcycle officers—including her husband, W. F. Nielsen—went to work.

They found a truck answering the description at 316 East Third street, driven by Rodriguez. But Rodriguez denied hitting another car. Mrs. Nielsen and other witnesses were unable to identify the car definitely. They said it had been loaded and stakes on the truck bed had been changed since the accident.

But on the truck's bumper was the word "gold," faintly outlined in dust. On the back of Mrs. Nielsen's car was a spare tire—and it was a "gold bond" tire. It's "brand" had been transferred to the truck bumper.

Under questioning, Rodriguez finally admitted the collision. He pleaded guilty to hit-run charges before Judge John Landell in city court and was given his choice of paying a $100 fine or going to jail for 50 days. He chose the jail term.

Yep, Doc Staggers Has Got Something -- Steady Nerves

CLEVELAND. (AP)—A doctor who stays up nights to pile kitchen matches on the mouth of a beer bottle is convinced he's struck something—steady nerves.

Dr. Thomas H. Staggers today said he piled 3585 matches on the top of a bottle on his dining room table before the tower collapsed. He started with a platform of five matches side by side, then covered these with a layer placed crosswise, then more layers each crosswise to the last.

"The top of the pile was about 10 inches across," he said. "You have to be steady about it, figuring out the right balance."

Dr. Staggers said he thought someone with too heavy a tread caused his tower to collapse, but he wasn't discouraged. He started right in on another one.

NEW VIADUCT IS OPENED

Governor Takes Part In Ceremony At Arches Overpass Today

Surrounded by beautiful bathing girls, and in his hands a pair of silver pliers, Gov. Frank Merriam was scheduled to open the recently-completed $185,000 highway overpass at The Arches, Newport, at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The new highway crossing was closed to traffic this morning. An artificial stone wall and 100-year-old gate were installed. In the impressive ceremonies, the governor will cut the wire which closes the gate, and throw it open for a parade, according to plans of the committee in charge.

Many members of the official state family planned to attend a luncheon at the Newport Harbor Yacht club at 12:30, where the governor will be guest of honor. Following this event, Merriam was to review 500 Sea Scouts, now holding their second annual "Rendezvous" at Newport. The opening rites were to follow.

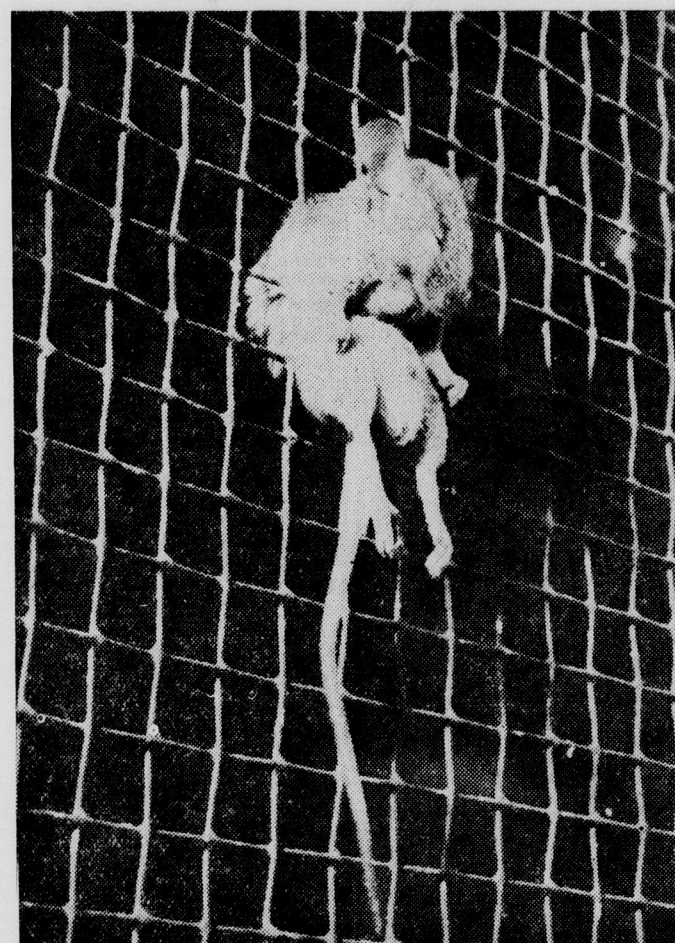

P. A. Stanton, state highway commissioner, was to take charge of the ceremony on the new viaduct and planned to introduce many state and city officials, and engineers in charge of the work. Engineer E. L. Patterson, who backed plans for the new overpass during the 10-year battle to eliminate the "death crossing" of Newport boulevard and Coast highway, will be honored during the ceremony.

A. F. L. RE-NAMES GREEN CHIEF

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—William Green was re-elected president of the American Federation of Labor late yesterday by unanimous vote of the federation's convention.

George M. Harrison, president of the railway clerks and the federation's chief peacekeeper, nominated Green. For the first time in 12 years John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, did not make the nomination.

Curiosity Also Kills Mouse

Stark tragedy sometimes stalks in the animal world. This little mouse set out to disprove claims that the wire netting on George Redfield's aviary at 2465 Riverside drive was mouse-proof, but procured his own death sentence in doing it. He crawled through one mesh and started out the next. There he stuck, unable to go forward or back up. He was dead when Floyd Stewart of the same address found him.

Fertilizer Is Fate For Starfish

Tons and tons of hydrogen, phosphate, lime and iodine were lying around on the sand at Laguna Beach today. Citizens of Laguna Beach, convinced that this was too much of a good thing for them to tackle alone, were about to demand a WPA project to take these tons and tons of chemicals and make them into fertilizer.

AUTOISTS SHY AT METERS

Long Beach Starts New Nickel Parking, But Business Is Slow

LONG BEACH. (AP)—Five-cent parking, controlled by automatic meters at the street curbs, went into effect in downtown Long Beach at 9 a. m. today, but before noon there had been few "sales."

The spaces in front of the 400 new nickel-in-the-slot meters were very sparsely patronized. Speculation arose as to whether motorists had decided individually and severally on a "strike," at least for the first day. City officials and police, however, believed the parking public was merely slow starting its patronage, many probably awaiting the printed folders describing operation of the new system in detail, which were not distributed on the streets until today.

The five-cent charge applies to whatever parking time limit has been in force previously where the meter is.

The meters will operate between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m., daily except on Sundays and holidays.

Valley Begins To Move Lettuce

EL CENTRO. (AP)—Imperial Valley, winter "salad bowl," sent its first carload of lettuce for the 1936-37 season speeding to New York markets today. This year's crop is valued at more than $1,000,000.

BLOCKADE ON HEATER OIL IS FEARED

Truck Drivers Threaten Embargo; Surplus Here Is Inadequate

By BOB GUILD
Orange county's $70,000,000 citrus crop was threatened with disaster today.

Two menaces could wipe it out in a few brief days. First of the threats is a cold snap.

Second is the possibility of striking truck drivers, in sympathy with longshoremen and seamen on walkout, persisting in their threat to place an embargo on southern California oil fields and refineries.

Ranchers Worried
Either one is apt to happen, and both can very easily happen at any time now.

Ranchers and association men were gravely concerned with the question today. They bore in mind two things: that there are 250,000 orchard heaters in this county, each with a fuel capacity of nine gallons; and that there is a surplus fuel supply available for only two, or at the most three nights, in association storage tanks and in tanks on ranches.

Orange county's heaters, running only at normal speed, burn 150,000 gallons of fuel in a 6-hour night.

One night of this annual warfare against frost costs the growers $18,750. Three nights of it costs $56,250.

Three nights under a blockade would be the limit—and if the first continued another night, $50,000, the entire industry, years of labor would be lost.

It is admitted that truckers could virtually choke the Southland's oil supply off in three days. This would work a hardship on drivers, but in the event of a cold spell it would mean tragedy for citrus growers.

Cold Spells Imminent
In 1930, during a two-weeks' frigid period, orchard heaters in Southern California burned 17,000,000 gallons of fuel. This snap occurred in January, but there is no reason it could not happen now. The thermometer is hovering around 40 these mornings.

And in 1913 orchardists in this county burned their heaters night and day for five days—only to lose their crop.

A general freeze, Farm Advisor Harold Vanberg said today, (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 4)

MERRIAM WILL URGE DRILLING

LONG BEACH. (AP)—Governor Merriam said today he will recommend to the legislature next month that the state do its own oil drilling to develop tideland areas as revenue sources.

"There is a possibility, of course," he said, "that some other method may be suggested that will be satisfactory to the state, but none has appeared thus far. The state is entitled to the revenue from its own lands, and I shall propose to the legislature that in the absence of any other satisfactory arrangement we proceed to drill our own wells."

Should She Marry Her Boss?

This question puzzled pretty Susan. He was 45, owned the big store where she worked, had a car and a beautiful country home. She was young, lived in a shabby boarding house—but there was Chet—handsome young traveling salesman for the firm. And Chet wanted to marry her, too. But then they'd both lose their jobs. What should Susan do? What would you do in her place? You'll be fascinated by the way this story works out. It's not too late to start "Crockery Girl," a new serial on page 5 today.

F.D.R. LEAVES BRAZIL FOR ARGENTINE

Will Arrive Monday In Buenos Aires For Peace Session

ABOARD THE U.S.S. CHESTER AT SEA. (P)—President Roosevelt, already at work on his second major speech in South America, sailed southward today for Buenos Aires and the inter-American peace conference.

The cruiser Indianapolis pulled out of Rio de Janeiro's harbor last night after a 12-hour visit in which hopes for strengthened relations between Brazil and the United States were reaffirmed on both sides.

Leaves With Regret
"I am leaving you tonight with great regret," the chief executive of the United States told President Getulio Vargas of Brazil shortly before his cruiser departed.

One thing, however, I shall remember—that is that it was two people who invented the New Deal—the president of Brazil and the president of the United States."

Mr. Roosevelt said intercontinental airplane service had made international friendship more easy to achieve.

Fireworks Display
Mr. Roosevelt remained on the Indianapolis' communications deck, waving his handkerchief to cheering crowds along the harbor piers as his cruiser moved slowly out to sea.

The bay was illuminated by a display of fireworks on the summit of Sugar Loaf mountain. The presidential party was expected to arrive in Buenos Aires Monday where Mr. Roosevelt is to address representatives of 21 American nations at the opening of the conference Tuesday.

Murder Probe Turns to North

FRESNO. (P)—Fresno county officers last night joined in a state-wide investigation of the murder of an unidentified woman Nov. 17 or 18 at Temple City in Los Angeles county after two Malaga residents identified a posthumous photograph as that of a hitch-hiker they had talked to at Malaga.

An attempt to identify the woman was centered here as a result of the report of C. L. White and Mrs. Lee J. Gass of the Shamrock Soap Company and Service Station at Malaga, they had talked to the woman and recalled her clothing in general fits the description of the clothing worn by the murder victim.

Syndicalism Law In Oregon Fought

WASHINGTON. (P)—The Oregon criminal syndicalism law was assailed as unconstitutional in a brief filed with the supreme court today in behalf of Dirk de Jonge, a Communist sentenced to serve seven years in the state penitentiary after he had been convicted of violating the statute.

"A law which punishes a person for participating in a peaceful meeting and speaking at it, merely because the meeting is called by the Communist party," the brief asserted, "is arbitrary and unreasonable and in violation of the constitutional guarantee of due process."

Fire Destroys Chute-the-Chutes

OCEAN ARK. (P)—Fire destroyed a chute-the-chutes concession at the end of an amusement pier today, causing damage unofficially estimated at $10,600.

Four fire companies from Santa Monica and Venice brought the blaze under control.

COURT BRIEFS

Accused by the district attorney's office of having forged a check for $523.37, in favor of R. D. Baker and Don Wikoff, M. A. McCourt will answer his arraignment in superior court Dec. 4. The offense is alleged to have occurred Nov. 14.

Arraignment of George A. Fitcher, Santa Ana, on charges of non-support of his two minor children, was continued by Superior Judge G. K. Scovel to Dec. 4, when Fitcher appeared before him yesterday. The defendant is represented by Judge Frank Drumm, Santa Ana.

Entering a plea of not guilty to a statutory offense involving a 17-year-old girl, Lee Halliday, Santa Ana, will stand trial Dec. 16, before Superior Judge James L. Allen. The offense was alleged to have been committed Nov. 19. Halliday is being defended by Alec P. Nelson, appointed by Superior Judge G. K. Scovel.

Leslie S. Wright, accused of having passed a bogus check for $9 on Marie Forrest, Nov. 23, yesterday entered a plea of guilty to the charge and asked probation. His hearing was set for Dec. 11, before Superior Judge G. K. Scovel, on motion of his attorney, John Colwell.

Water Pressure Cracks Pipes

When representatives of the board of fire underwriters tested fire hydrant water pressure Wednesday they found plenty.

The shock of suddenly closing three fire hydrants with a stream of water flowing jarred pipes enough to crack a pipe connection on Sycamore street, between Fourth and Fifth. Workmen yesterday and Thursday tore out a small section of paving to repair the break.

BLUM POINTS TO THREAT OF WAR

PARIS. (P)—Premier Leon Blum, alarmed over the turn of events in Europe, pointed warningly today to France's war strength.

Commenting on the gravity of European affairs, the Socialist premier declared France, second only to Soviet Russia, possessed the "most powerful military force in continental Europe."

His declaration at a Socialist meeting last night was an effort to bolster the popular front government against menacing situations at home and abroad.

He assured the nation of France's power to resist foreign threats, warning that the "international situation has never been as serious or as dangerous in the past three months as it is now."

RUSSIAN SUB FLEET IS DOUBLED

MOSCOW. (P)—Russia virtually has doubled her submarine fleet during 1936, Admiral Ivan Orloff, chief of the naval forces, told the Union Congress of Soviets today.

Admiral Orloff announced the following percentage increases in naval equipment since Jan. 1, 1933: Submarines, 715 per cent; warships, 300 per cent; coast artillery, 75 per cent; anti-aircraft guns, 100 per cent; marine aviation, 510 per cent.

The newest submarine figures showed rapid advances in undersea craft construction since January of this year when the percentage increase since 1933 was stated officially as 435 per cent.

The basic figures for Russian naval armament were not announced. Urging construction of the largest fleet in the world, Admiral Orloff warned there is "a wild naval race abroad."

Townsend News, Views

By WALTER R. ROBB

(This is a non-political, non-partisan column, dealing in Townsend news and views, and written by a prominent Townsend leader. Any opinions which are expressed herein are not necessarily those of The Journal.)

Ernest S. Morrow, Los Angeles Townsend speaker, will address a mass meeting in Townsend hall, 509 West Fourth street, at 7:30 tonight.

He has a reputation as a good speaker. Doubtless many from over the county will attend this gathering. If you are interested in hearing about the Townsend plan you should be present.

A gathering was present Wednesday evening to hear another Townsend address. Frances Hansen is only 16 years old, but she knows the Townsend plan and its objectives, and can apply its teachings with effectiveness in addressing an audience. She did so Wednesday evening, and aroused the audience to intense enthusiasm with her splendid message.

She was scheduled to address a gathering in Hemet last evening, and another in San Bernardino over the week-end.

The Anaheim Townsend club is sponsoring a Townsend mass meeting for Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The meeting will be held in Anaheim Townsend hall, 210 South Clementine street. Mrs. Ida S. Freeman will preside. Special arrangements have been made for musical entertainment. But the big attraction will be an address by Miss Hansen. Sunday is a day when many will have an opportunity of hearing this girl who at other times are unable to attend Townsend gatherings. The public is welcome.

The Garden Grove club is meeting at 7 o'clock Monday evening in the Woman's Civic clubhouse. Dewey S. Hubbard, club president, will preside. A distinctive and pleasant privilege has been arranged for the evening audience. Thomas H. Kuchel, assemblyman-elect from the Seventy-fifth district, has been secured to address the group. Kuchel received the support of the Townsends in general from that district. The strength of the Townsends can be imagined by the fact that, in the face of a Democratic party landslide in the county, Kuchel as the Republican nominee was elected. The public will be welcome to attend the meeting and hear this speaker.

Harry C. Westover, state senator-elect from Orange county, was the speaker at Santa Ana Club No. 7's meeting last night. L. C. Carlisle presided over the meeting. This club meets in the Orange avenue Christian church every Friday evening.

Townsend headquarters in Los Angeles is being changed around considerably again. The Townsend Weekly has vacated its offices, having moved to 720 North Michigan avenue, Chicago, where it will occupy the entire top floor of the building. The Weekly will be guided editorially by J. W. Brinton who has been appointed general manager and editor-in-chief.

The writer was in headquarters yesterday. The state area office has been moved from the fifth floor of the Broadway Arcade building to the offices vacated by the Townsend Weekly at 311 Spring Arcade building. This gives much spacious office room and also assists in lowering of expense which has been included in the program of the Townsend movement of late. This move, the writer was told, will result

JUSTICE, IN JAIL, FILES NEW PLEA

SAN FRANCISCO. (P)—Gavin Craig, state district appellate court judge who is drawing his $10,000 a year salary while serving a year's jail term in the Ventura county jail, filed notice of a new appeal for a writ of habeas corpus yesterday.

Craig notified the U. S. circuit court of appeals he would apply to the court next Monday for an order to release him on bail pending his appeal in circuit court from denial of a habeas corpus writ application. He was denied such a writ in Los Angeles federal court Nov. 16.

The jurist, convicted of conspiracy to obstruct justice in the Italo Petroleum Company case in Los Angeles, was committed to jail after he had carried appeals, all of which failed, to the United States supreme court.

The California state supreme court ruled recently Craig was entitled to his $10,000 annual salary as a jurist even though he was in jail.

in a saving of approximately $100 per month. Consolidation of all offices of the Townsend Weekly in Chicago will also result in economy. A distinctive and pleasant privilege has been arranged for the evening audience.

Tustin Townsend club will meet Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Presbyterian church social hall. President John Sauer will conduct an open forum meeting. Each of the club members will be privileged to express his views before the club. At last week's meeting Harry C. Westover addressed the gathering.

The Townsends of Santa Ana in particular feel deeply for Mrs. Mae J. Thomas in her sorrow at the loss of her husband, former Superior Court Judge W. H. Thomas. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday. Mrs. Thomas has long been interested in the Townsend movement and has performed many services of a helpful nature to the Townsend cause in the clubs of the city.

Another Townsendite has gone and the Townsend club members of club No. 2 in particular have experienced a loss. Mrs. Lillie O. Feighner of 1016 West Fourth street, wife of Frank Feighner, is the departed one. Her sister, Mrs. Charlie Dean, is unusually active in the club. The members of club No. 2 share the grief of the husband, daughter, sister and brothers who survive Mrs. Feighner.

While in Los Angeles yesterday the writer visited the Townsend club presidents' meeting and heard Edward Trefz make a fine talk before the 150 or more Townsend club officers assembled, which doesn't look like the Townsend movement is folding up as yet.

FOOTBALL SELECTIONS

Warning: Prepare for the deluge of all this and all that football selections that will flood the sport pages next week.

The all-America, compiled by the world-famous Associated Press, will be coming along to The Journal, and with it the all-Eastern J. C. conference, the all-Coast Prep league, and the all-County league elvans.

At least eight members of Santa Ana Jaycee's powerhouse champions are in the running for recognition.

Ends Al Titterton and Fred Erdhaus, tackle Russell Roquet, Guards Howard Rash and Carl Benson, Center Bob Holmes, Quarterback Bill Greshner and Fullback Johnny Lehnhardt, Erdhaus and Greshner should receive honors for their uncanny pass-receiving alone! Lehnhardt is a sure-fire bet, too.

Santa Ana's winless Saints, kicked around rudely in a Coast league too strong for them, may land at least one player on the honor roll.

Reports from San Diego, Long Beach and Alhambra have recognized in chunky Ferris Wall a pretty fair guard and tackle. He is certain to gain second—perhaps first—team recognition. The Press-Telegram, through Bob Hall, is compiling selections received from the coaches and scribes.

HARRIS LOOKS GOOD

Prediction: By next fall, Merle (Snakehips) Harris will be as well-known on the U. C. L. A. varsity as he was at Riverside, where he was all-Eastern J. C. conference quarterback in '33 and '34. Nothing sensational on offense this fall, Merle nevertheless has developed into a bearcat on equally important defense. He intercepted three Trojan passes deep into Bruin territory at the Coliseum Thanksgiving day. One was caught on a sensational plunge in front of the U. S. C. receiver.

COPY-WRIGHTED

Did you know that rabbit hunting, next to fishing, has more devotees than any other form of outdoor sport? Watch for Larry Bauer's Associated Press feature in The Journal Monday.

That Stanford Southern California game in Los Angeles next fall should be a corker. The Indians who were good enough to tie Washington's champions, 14-14, will lose TWO of their starters, and the Trojans will lose only FOUR of theirs. Good enough to extend Santa Ana's titlists, 6-0, Chaffey's potent Panthers folded up against the inspired Riverside Bengals who outgained the Ontario J. C. eleven 360 yards to 106, and 13 first downs to 6.

Former Trojan teammates in the early 1920's, Leo Calland and Chief Newman, are coaches of the San Diego State and Whittier college elvans, respectively, that swung into action for the Southern California conference crown at Whittier today.

Fourth Fight Looms Between McLarnin and Ross

CHICAGOAN IS TOO STRONG FOR 'IZZY'

Jannazzo Is Outpointed From Start to Finish Before Small Crowd

By ALAN GOULD
NEW YORK. (AP)—The fight decks were cleared today for the repetition of an old but popular fight number—the fourth duel between Barney Ross and Jimmy McLarnin, for the welterweight championship of the world.

Ross, the sharp-eyed, sharp-hitting Chicagoan, paved the way for the return match by achieving a decisive 15-round victory last night over his rugged New York challenger, Izzy Jannazzo.

To the surprise of no one around the ringside and despite some evidence of derision among 8484 cash customers, who contributed to a disappointing gross "gate" of $22,840, Ross outpointed Jannazzo from start to finish, floored the challenger twice for brief counts, and won going away.

Garden 'Punished'
The Madison Square Garden management, which guaranteed Ross $32,500 for his first title defense since he regained the crown from McLarnin a year and a half ago, took the biggest share of punishment.

The only satisfaction for the promotion department is that it has both Ross and McLarnin tied to contracts. They may be brought together again before the indoor season closes and while the rivalry is considered "hot," but the chances are that both boards of strategy will hold out for an outdoor "shot" and a bigger gate.

In three previous outdoor matches, Ross has beaten McLarnin twice but ringsiders last night rated the Irishman at least an even chance to regain the 147-pound crown, on the basis of comparative performances within a space of a week. McLarnin gave a shellacking to the lightweight champion, Lou Ambers, a week ago.

Sets Brisk Race
Ross, returning to action after a long layoff, found Jannazzo a durable shock-absorber for everything he had to offer. The champion set a brisk race from the start and piled up a lead on points that left no doubt about the outcome. Jannazzo, however, got up off the floor after being flattened in the second and fifth rounds by short hooks and carried the fight to Barney with little indication of being the worse for wear.

On the Associated Press score-sheet Ross won 10 rounds, Jannazzo four, with one even.

PICARD FAVORED IN OPEN GOLF

AUGUSTA, Ga., (AP)—Henry Picard went into the $5000 Augusta Open golf tournament's second round today as favorite in the field of 214.

The Hershey, Pa., professional's low of 69 in yesterday's initial 18 holes had him posted at odds of 4 to 1 to take the 72-hole event.

Horton Smith of Chicago and Tony Manero of Greensboro, N. C., who trailed Picard with sub-par 70's, were next choices at 6 to 1.

Service Elvans Firing Away at Philadelphia Today

Back in 1890, when the Midshipmen challenged the Cadets to a game of football, the sport was something the officers frowned upon as unbecoming a soldier. The challenge caused a change of heart at the military academy and while they did not exactly do an about face in their attitude toward the game, the officers did unbend to the extent of permitting the Cadets to accept the challenge, and looking the other way while the Cadets prepared to meet the Midshipmen.

Because of his experience with the game at Dartmouth, Cadet Dennis Michie elected himself a committee of one to recruit and train the team. It was a non-descript band he gathered together on the old parade grounds on the plains of West Point for the first practice.

Football was not new at that time to the Midshipmen. They had engaged in an informal way and without the sanction of the authorities at Annapolis, in the American version of rugby for a period of eight years prior to 1890. In 1889 they had met and defeated Virginia in a football contest. They played a regular schedule of six contests in 1890, the year of the first Army-Navy game.

The hurriedly prepared team of Cadets could hardly have been expected to be a match for the experienced Midshipmen. It was not. The Navy warriors spent a pleasant afternoon bowling over the green Cadet players, and ran up a score of 24-0.

Army Counter-Attacked
The defeat hurt the pride of the Cadets. But it taught them a lot about football. It did more than that—it aroused a desire to meet the Midshipmen again and gain revenge.

Cadet Michie lost no time in preparing for another meeting. The Cadets responded with enthusiasm and by the time the two teams clashed again the following fall, Michie had a fairly well drilled team to throw against the enemy. When the smoke of the battle at Annapolis cleared, the Cadets found themselves on the long end of the 32-16 score. Cadet Michie was the shining light of the victory.

Navy came back to take the next two contests. Then, for a period of five years, the series was dropped because it was decreed by Washington that the service battle constituted a distracting element inimical to orderly routine at the academies.

In 1896 the teams met again at Franklin field, Philadelphia. It was the first of the series played on this neutral ground, midway between the two institutions.

Army won 17-5 in 1899, but the Midshipmen came right back the following year with an 11-7 victory over the Cadets.

The next four games saw the Army victorious, while in 1905 the teams fought to a 6-6 tie when the scene of battle was shifted to Princeton. At Philadelphia, in 1906 and 1907, the Midshipmen triumphed.

In the 10 meetings of Trojans and Irish, the score stands 6 to 4 for the boys of South Bend. The competition has been so close that three of the games were decided by one point. The total scoring shows that Notre Dame has made 122 points in the series to 118 for Southern California.

Thrills galore have packed the 10 big battles. In the opener of the series here in 1926, the Irish won 13-12, in the last two minutes of play when little Art Parisien passed to John Niemce for a touchdown. In 1927 at Soldier field, Chicago, the Notre Dame men again won by the margin of a conversion. The score was 7 to 6 and two all-America backs, Morley Drury of S. C. and Christy Flanagan of Notre Dame, furnished the fireworks with sensational ball-carrying.

Southern California turned in its first win in 1928 at Los Angeles with Russ Saunders scoring the first touchdown and playing the hero role in a 27-14 game. Jack Chevigny starred for the Irish in this one.

In '29, back at Soldier field, the one-point jinx again hounded the Trojans who dropped a 13-12 thriller before more than 100,000 fans. Among thrillers of this battle were Russ Saunders' 90-yard runback of a kick-off for a Trojan touchdown and Joe Savoldi's mighty line plunging to put over Notre Dame's winning score.

The 1930 game in Los Angeles was Knute Rockne's sensational farewell to football in a slashing 27-0 victory over Troy. Chief Thriller of this game was Bucky O'Connor's 80-yard sprint to an Irish touchdown.

Preparing for the eleventh meeting, the Notre Dame squad will arrive in Tucson Wednesday and will work out there through Friday, arriving here on the day of the game. The Trojans resume firing on the practice field Monday, and although their record for the past season does not match that of the Irish, they are certain to come up with a battling squad Saturday capable of carrying on the thrill tradition of the series.

LOYOLA HOST TO DONS SUNDAY
LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Loyola university, loser to St. Mary's and Santa Clara this season, will attempt to wrest one victory from a bay region football team tomorrow when the Dons of San Francisco university line up in Gilmore stadium.

In addition, Coach Tom Lieb's Lions will be out to avenge a 9 to 0 licking San Francisco handed them last year. To date, the Dons have dropped four games.

MATZEN FIVE SCORES 2ND CAGE WIN

Woolen Mills Outpoints Medak's Quintet By 42-36 Count Here

Springing Doug Wheeler, forward, and Fred Wiener, center, under the opposition basket with telling effect, Manager Quentin Matzen's Woolen Mills outpointed another strong rival, Medak's Service of San Pedro, by a score of 42 to 36 in basketball at the Y. M. C. A. last night.

Wheeler rumbled the mesh for 15 points and Wiener 17 in a sparkling second-half rally to overtake Medak's quintet, which slightly dominated the first half, 22 to 19. Smoother teamwork brought results for the Woolen Mills, just as it won for them against the Redondo Eagles, 42 to 37, here last week.

Manager Matzen has closed for a third encounter with the U. S. S. Vestal five here next Tuesday night, and hopes to schedule the U. S. S. Tennessee in the near future, he said.

NETMEN PLAY FULLERTON

An inter-league tennis match between Santa Ana and Fullerton for the mythical Orange county championship will be played over the Frances Willard Junior High school courts beginning at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

The rivals showed somewhat even strength in losing to Pomona's netters, and Capt. John Cress of the locals anticipates an interesting battle. His lineup follows:

Men's singles—Muryl Hallman, Gilmore Ward, Marvin Jacobs, Arno Finster and Carroll Merrick.

Men's doubles—Kenneth Rann and Toby White, Carl Aubrey and Bob Mize, Oliver Dwyer and Bill Keith.

Women's singles—Kathryn Williams and Ann Wetherell. Mixed doubles—Ann Wetherell and Fred Wiemer, Kathryn Williams and Gilmore Ward.

Lehnhardt of Dons Second In Scoring

Three of Santa Ana Junior college's all-conference football nominees finished among the "Big Five" of league scoring this fall.

Top honors went to Pomona's fine fullback, John Casey, with 36 points, with Lehnhardt only nine points behind.

After a two-day layoff, John Lehnhardt, following a perfect season in the Eastern conference, Coaches Bill Cook and Blanchard Beatty will call out their champion Dons at the Municipal bowl Monday afternoon for concentrated drill for their Southern California playoff with the Los Angeles Cubs of the Western division here next Friday night.

The conference touchdown log:

Player	Td.	Conv.	Pts.
Casey, Pomona	6	0	36
Lehnhardt, Santa Ana	3	0	18
Montgomery, Citrus	1	1	5
Greshner, Santa Ana	3	2	20
Erdhaus, Santa Ana	0	6	18
Anderson, Chaffey	3	0	18

CARDS WANT 7 PLAYERS FOR DIZZY

Pittsburgh Pilot Will Not Trade Fullerton Shortstop in Deal

PITTSBURGH. (AP)—That glow over Pittsburgh today came from the red hot stove league discussion about the big topic of the winter—thus far — $175,000 and seven Pirate players for Dizzy Dean.

They argued for Dizzy as a drawing card, and of course, as a means of strengthening the Pirates' hurling staff.

But they argued against the deal because it includes Arky Vaughan, Pittsburgh's prize shortstop, in the players demanded by the St. Louis Cardinals.

Manager Pie Traynor announced the Cards' price for Dean but in the same breath said he wouldn't part with Vaughan, then added "the door is still open."

Traynor said he'll talk it over with Bill Benswanger, president of the Pirates, before going to the minor league meeting in Montreal to dabble in the swapping market.

"If we could talk the Cardinals out of the Vaughan angle, we could swing the deal. The cash consideration isn't a drawback."

"Sam Breardon (Cards' owner) told me when I first approached him about Dean that he could get in cash between $400,000 and $500,000 for Dizzy. But he prefers playing material with which to replenish the Cards and his minor league farms. That is why his demands for so much Pirate playing material, major and minor, are so heavy."

Besides Vaughan, the players Traynor said were asked for Dean, are Tommy Padden, catcher; Woody Jensen, left fielder; Tony Lavagetto, second; string first baseman; Bernie Cobb, outfielder and first basemen with Tulsa in the Texas league; Kenneth Heitzman, southpaw pitcher with Jeanette in the Penn State league.

SECOND RIVAL FOR ORANGE SELECTED

Orange High school's crack football varsity, champions of the Orange league, will draw Glendale in the second round of the C. I. F. eliminations next week provided the Panthers clip the wings of the Sea Hawks at Redondo Beach this afternoon.

Redondo, Bay league finalist, ruled a slight favorite over the Orange county preps, but rail-birds were of the opinion Orange could win with the same stubborn line play that bewildered Anaheim and Laguna Beach in other championship tests.

Coaches Stewart White and Mike Santa Cruz planned to start the same lineup that overpowered Laguna Beach's minor division kings, 15 to 7, at the Municipal bowl last week.

Lynn Montgomery and Grover (Lil Abner) Miller were to be at end, Ray Amling and Ed Gould at tackle, Jack Lentz and Joe Paine at guard, Mel Boehner at center, Max Fletcher at quarterback, Larry Timken and Bob Schildmeyer at halfback and diminutive Bill Beck at fullback.

Brick Dust

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

THIS is going to be a story about a guy and some cows and how he kept on trying and won prizes. In spite of tough luck and other things.

He's a young guy, Arthur C. Murdy, who lives out on Golden West avenue near Midway City. Realizing that someone needs must get out before daylight to deliver milk so that other folks can dilute their coffee and make their breakfasts soggy, Art started carting bottles along about six years ago. Dunno how many cows he had then, but that first morning he delivered only 24 quarts of milk.

Now he serves between three and four hundred customers every morning. But that isn't what we're going to discuss.

It's about the cows. You're aware, of course, that to get milk a dairyman must have cows. Elemental. Well, he got some cows, and gave 'em such nice treatment—you know, soothing 'em when they needed soothing, and handing out pep talks and such—that they started winning prizes for him.

For five years he'd won the high award for small herds when the Orange County Dairyman's association met in Westminster. This year he had high hopes of repeating.

During the year, things looked so bright that he built a new home and new electrically equipped dairy. Everything spic and span. He was just getting ready to move into the new home when he had an accident. Went over to adjust some machinery. It blew up. Injured him almost fatally.

For a long time he laid in bed, worrying about his herd and about winning the prize again. Didn't look as if he could. Then, he finally was out and around a bit. Things looked brighter. And then a bull attacked him, inflicting terrible bruises. Back to bed.

And so he just about gave up all chances of winning the county award. But the dairyman, when they met last week in Westminster, decided that he still had the best herd of his size in the county. And he won the prize again!

Don't know whether there's a moral. Maybe it's that if you treat animals nicely, they'll do the same by you. Or maybe it's that the early bird gets to deliver the milk!

How's the rest room battle coming over in Orange? Been quiet, lately, that fight!

Ever since someone suggested they place a comfort station in the city plaza, things've been popping. Shriekings and name-calling from clubs and women's organizations. They don't want any old rest-rooms in their plaza.

Plans to put the haven underground were even frowned upon by rolled residents. Some, I'm told, even went so far as to suggest that like institutions be placed on front lawns of those suggesting and backing the plan. Don't know how far that idea's been carried out!

Highwayman George Kellogg, who plans thoroughfares in between shifts growing avocados and things, is excited again.

This time about the Imperial Highway association's meeting at El Centro. Week from today.

Every year, the highwaymen and women skip down to the valley town to celebrate something or other. Bob Hayes, ardent Imperial booster, hosts 'em all over the valley. George says they travel every minute they're there.

So, if you're interested in highways, plan to meet with the Imperial association next Saturday. They'll stay at the Barbara Walsh hotel, and have a fine meeting, 'n everything.

Up in Brea the city council worries about parallel parking. Just when I thought the situation in the county was all settled.

It seems the state law makes the hard-to-parallel business mandatory on state highways. Some cities didn't like the idea much. Laguna, for instance, where they didn't change the system for some time. Until, I expect, somebody got tough about it. Everyone, almost, kicked about it, even at Capistrano, because it cuts down the number of spaces in a block. But they've all changed over, now.

So I imagine that residents of Brea soon will be cussing as they drive home with rumped fenders and badly strained tempers, just like the rest of us!

Fullerton Isaac Walton league members are going rock-hunting. A chapter of the league in Minnesota is going to build a fireplace in their cabin, and want a rock from every state.

I'd like to suggest to Police Sergeant John Gregory, who's the head like in Fullerton, that they send a stone from the rockpile we almost had in Santa Ana for the building job.

HARWOODS ENTERTAIN
TUSTIN.—Principal and Mrs. Ernest Harwood entertained at a family dinner Thursday. Guests included F. S. Harwood, William Harwood, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Pippitt, Betty and Bobby Pippitt, Mrs. Pippitt, and Alvin and Albert

OPEN H. B. DRIVE TO OBTAIN TIDE LAND ROYALTIES

PRIOR CLAIM OF CITY IS ADVANCED

Officials May Announce New Drilling Plan In Near Future

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Huntington Beach opened a drive today for its share of royalties from the vasty wealthy tideland oil pool within the city's limits.

A member of the official city family was quoted as saying that Huntington Beach was ready to push a plan calling for exploitation of a pool within the city limits, rather than lend its support to other programs advanced throughout the state which would give the lion's share of proceeds to the state or county.

"The city," he said, "is ready to back her prior claims, as invested in the community by the Huntington Beach Oil company, her charter from the state designating the city's corporate limits as extending three miles out to sea, her acknowledged police and fire jurisdiction and her prohibitory ordinances governing ocean drilling."

Frank Bundy, prominent oil city business man, told the chamber of commerce this week that the city was in the midst of a "real" boom. He said $5,000,000 had been paid by the Standard Oil company in royalties from the Huntington Beach pool.

Whipstock drillers, the city feels, are getting rich on proceeds from their slanted wells. Legislative proposals fail to break the existing deadlock.

And the city is ready to make a concerted drive for its share in this wealth. A program based on this cardinal principle is expected from the city hall within the next few days.

SLATE ORANGE CHURCH EVENT

ORANGE.—An eight-day preaching mission will be conducted here by the Christian and Methodist churches beginning Sunday evening, it was announced today.

Musical will be under the direction of Mrs. Leon Des Larzes, Christian church choir leader. The services will alternate between the two churches, with both pastors preaching and other pastors of the city taking part.

Subjects announced by the Rev. William Holder, pastor of the Christian church, are Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, "God and the Individual"; Monday at 7:30 p. m., "God and the Government"; Tuesday, "God and Industry"; Wednesday, "God and Education"; Thursday, "God and Society"; Friday, "God and the Home"; Sunday morning, Dec. 6, "God and the Church"; and in the evening, "He That Believeth Not."

Laguna Players Production Told

LAGUNA BEACH.—The next major attraction to be presented by the Laguna Beach Community Players will be the thrilling mystery drama, "The Bellamy Trial." The play, which takes place in a courtroom, will be staged next Friday and Saturday, Dec. 5 and 6, at 8:30 p. m. at the Community Playhouse.

The case will be tried before Judge Radford, with Prosecuting Attorney Farr in charge of the case for the state. The defense attorney is Dudley Lambert.

Olympic Club Meets at Orange

ORANGE.—Mrs. C. H. Adams was hostess to members of the Olympic club Friday at her home on South Clark street.

After a social afternoon refreshments were served to Mrs. Bert Gordon, Mrs. Henrietta Prichard, Mrs. Amelia Krohe, Mrs. Margaret Tulene, and a guest, Mrs. Joe Wagers. The meeting next month will be held at the home of Mrs. Bert Hodson.

Midway Pair Fete Friends

MIDWAY CITY.—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hazard entertained Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Brentlinger, Earnest Brentlinger, Miss Robina Brentlinger, Clyde Hazard and Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Jiles and family, Santa Ana, on Thanksgiving day.

Farm Center Meetings

TUESDAY
Anaheim center, 6:30 p. m. in cafeteria of high school. Pot-luck dinner, with center to furnish meat dish, coffee, cream, butter and rolls; members to bring a covered dish or dessert. Meeting will start promptly at 7:30 p. m. Topic: "Soil Conservation" by Gordon Whitnall; forest fire picture by Donald Pannier, discussion of 4-H clubs and pep talk by Ed Hall, Herman H. Freese, president.

School Days Now for Blonde Quadruplets

MASON TO GIVE LAGUNA TALK

LAGUNA BEACH.—Speaker at the Laguna Beach Public forum Monday night in the high school auditorium will be Dr. John Brown Mason, head of the department of social science at Colorado Women's college, it was announced today.

The subject of the address will be "The Spanish Revolution," a topic that is expected to attract interest of a large group of forum attendees.

Dr. Mason recently returned from a trip to Europe, where he studied conditions in France, Germany and Belgium. He declared on his return that everywhere he found the fear of war in the hearts of the people.

While appearing on forum programs in this country, Dr. and Mrs. Mason are making Laguna Beach their home. Dr. Mason is a highly interesting speaker who always has a timely message, and his appearance on the program always has meant a large attendance at the meeting, it was declared.

MESA HOLIDAY PROGRAM TOLD

COSTA MESA.—The Sunday school board of Community church held a special meeting Tuesday evening at the home of the superintendent, the Rev. G. W. Brown. Plans were made for a Christmas program and tree. Announcement was made of a pageant, "Nativity," to be presented by the local Elementary schools.

Unified morning services were discussed but no action will be taken until Dec. 6, when the plan will be put to a vote of the Sunday school classes. J. E. Lewton, Forest Grove, Ore., spoke on "Boys' Work."

PAIR OBSERVE WEDDING DATE

ORANGE.—The 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Hirst was observed Wednesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McInnis gave a dinner in their honor at their home on Lester drive.

The Hirsts were married on Thanksgiving eve, 1896, at Vine-land, W. J. O. Evans present were Mrs. Sarah Dutton and Jimmie McInnis.

San Juan Forum Topic Announced

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO.—The story behind the headlines which surrounded the spectacular career and suicide of the late Marion Zionscheck will be told at the San Juan Capistrano public forum Wednesday evening, according to Charles Dean, when Homer Chaney discusses "Are We Done With Democracy?"

How 30 Nazi brownshirts, in full uniform complete even to the swastika, broke up by force a public meeting in Portland, Ore., recently, will also be described by the speaker.

Pension Club Has Party in Home

COSTA MESA.—At the last regular meeting of Townsend club No. 1 a card party was given at the home of the vice president, Mrs. E. E. Evans. Refreshments were served.

JUDGE ON VISIT
TUSTIN.—Judge and Mrs. Dwight Hayden and family went to Pomona Thanksgiving day and had dinner at the home of Mr. Hayden's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Hayden, of that city.

++ County's Artists ++

Career of Dietrick Dietrickson Started as Boy in Norway

By MRS. L. B. SMALLEY
Soon, however, he felt an urge to go West and paint movie stars. But painting Western desert scenes proved more alluring, and as soon as he settled in Laguna, he started working on his famed marines.

Being a Norwegian, one would expect him to be "all wet," after looking at the manner in which other native artists got their effects of light on the ocean and the shapes of clouds. Dietrickson saw many effects which could be improved upon. "In the first place," he said, "if you are painting the sky or the water, don't use your imagination at all. The sky is an exact replica of the rocks underneath. A mirror of the good earth and rocks underneath."

A painting called "The Pool" shows one big white cloud floating along in a blue sky, photographing a jagged rock underneath. In another rugged rock painting, the fog has not quite lifted from the rocks, which look so wet they would take the curl out of a permanent $5 hair wave. Being an early riser, Dietrickson prefers the ivory lights on the waves and a golden sky for the first canvas, and gets a wonderful atmosphere in his landscape because the waves in the foreground are done in such rich, warm colors.

He paints his pictures to live with, not to hang in galleries. Even while living in Laguna he did not put any paintings in the gallery because he said his marines would kill any other painting on display.

BAZAR SLATED AT LAGUNA SLATE PLAY AT NEWPORT H. S.

LAGUNA BEACH.—Plans for staging a bazar Dec. 4 and 5 were announced today by the J. W. McKenney Woman's Relief Corps of Laguna Beach, following the regular meeting of the group this week. A cooked food sale will be conducted in connection with the bazar on Saturday.

The meeting this week was held in the American Legion hall, with Mathilda Dunlap, president, presiding. Mamie Deems, department president, inspector, was honored guest. Other guests introduced included Mary Buckingham, department treasurer; Ruth Line, department secretary; Mary Mitchell and Comrade Kane of Orange.

El Modenans Honor Friends

EL MODENA.—Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Jones were hosts to a number of relatives and friends on Thanksgiving day. A turkey dinner was served to Mr. and Mrs. John Hirst and Mrs. Sarah Dutton, Orange; Dr. and Mrs. Curtis H. Kent, Hollywood; William McPherson, Vincent McPherson, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Jones and son, Charles, and Mrs. Flora May, Brea.

Church Group to Hear Dana Lamb

GARDEN GROVE.—Mr. and Mrs. Dana Lamb, Santa Ana, will relate an exciting story on the 16,000-mile canoe trip on the Pacific, at a Father and Son banquet to be held by the Men's Brotherhood in the First Methodist church Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

On the program will be numbers from the high school boys' glee club and a half-hour of fun with Alva Brower, Pomona ventriloquist. Members of the committee in charge are Garfield Allen, Harvey Emley, P. M. German and Allen Goddard.

Susan admired it. It was set in spacious grounds. One would be able to breathe there—what a relief from the city! "It is lovely, Mr. Sithwick." "A nice home, Susan. As I told you, I am lonely—and I have been learning to appreciate you more and more during these four years. I believe you said once that you were quite alone in the world?" "Yes—or practically. There is a greatest-uncle out in some little midwestern town. I never saw him. He wrote me a kind letter when father died."

BUILDING AT ORANGE IN SLUMP

ORANGE.—Building permits for November totaled but $10,900, as against $18,762 in permits during October, it was announced by Frank Dale, building inspector, whose books for the month closed Wednesday night. In November 1935, permits amounted to $10,515.

The slump in the amount of building is due directly to the Pacific coast maritime strike, Dale believes, and said there is a shortage in building materials here. Prices are also higher for this reason.

CHURCH PLANS ACTIVE WEEK

WINTERSBURG.—As a follow-up of the county-wide National Preaching mission, sponsored by 220,000 Protestant churches of all denominations, the Wintersburg Community church will open a series of evening meetings Sunday evening, continuing until Friday evening, Dec. 4.

Speakers will include the Rev. Joseph Thompson, who will address the opening meeting; Rev. Scott Wilmarth, Los Angeles, a former pastor who will speak Monday and Tuesday evenings; Wednesday evening the Rev. Arthur Nagle, Long Beach, will have charge of the meeting; Thursday, the Rev. Merrill will give an illustrated travel talk with several reels of pictures. The concluding service Friday night will be conducted by the Rev. Thomas Burden, Highland Park. Regular services will be held at the church on Sunday with the pastor using for his sermon topic in the morning "Final Rewards of Righteousness." The subject of his evening sermon will be "How Christ Transforms Our Relationships."

Brotherhood to See Pictures

GARDEN GROVE.—Members of the Alamitos Brotherhood will meet for a pot-luck supper Tuesday evening in the Alamitos Fraternal church. Mrs. Edna Smith will supervise showing of a talking picture on tuberculosis, entitled "Behind the Shadows." Frank Everett is program chairman.

Receives Word Of Son's Death

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Thanksgiving day was a sad day for Andrew J. Lenox, old-time resident of Newport. He received word of the death of his son in Los Angeles.

CROCKERY GIRL By LEWIS ALLEN BROWNE

For four years, since her father's death left her alone in the world, Susan Morrison has worked in the dreary office of the small Sithwick Crockery company, wholesale. Chester Hadley, young traveling salesman for the concern, wants to marry her. Since he makes barely enough to support himself, she says it would be foolish to admit this. Then, unexpectedly, John Sithwick, owner of the concern, 45 and a widower, offers Susan a way out of her drudgery—he asks her to marry him.

CHAPTER II
"Oh!" Susan said, faintly. Sithwick smiled at her. "Does my proposal shock you, Susan?" "Oh, no—of course not, Mr. Sithwick. But I am surprised."

"Why should any pretty girl be surprised that a man wants to marry her?" "If we had been going out together, Mr. Sithwick, or about if I had any idea that you gave me a thought beyond the work, but—" "Of course. But I have been thinking of you—for some time—whether you know it or not. I am—practically—well off. You would have a good home, my dear. You never saw this—" He handed her a photograph. "My home in Pelham."

Susan admired it. It was set in spacious grounds. One would be able to breathe there—what a relief from the city! "It is lovely, Mr. Sithwick." "A nice home, Susan. As I told you, I am lonely—and I have been learning to appreciate you more and more during these four years. I believe you said once that you were quite alone in the world?" "Yes—or practically. There is a greatest-uncle out in some little midwestern town. I never saw him. He wrote me a kind letter when father died."

"I see. Well, then, you have to make your decision without family advice, Susan—an advantage, I believe."

Susan stared out of the dingy window at a brick wall, a struggling alanthus tree, a pile of empty crates and bits of broken crockery. She had had that same gloomy outlook for four long years.

"But—there was Chet. You aren't engaged, are you, Susan?" "No—I am not."

"I thought not. You never have young men telephoning or coming in to see you. Anyway, a man of my age, Susan, really makes a much better husband than a younger man. He is settled and steadfast. And surely, you are not blind to the advantage of having a handsome home and a life of comfort and ease?" "No, Mr. Sithwick. But you never so much as hinted, in these four years, that you were interested in me."

"I wanted to be sure. Now I am sure—that I want you. Sure that I can make you happy."

"Of course, I am flattered—pleased. But I need time to think things over. After all, it is—for life."

"Susan, you are as sensible as you are beautiful. Consider it from all angles, my dear girl. I feel quite sure that you will accept me."

He turned back to his own desk. Susan had to type the next page of sales reports three times—an unheard-of thing for her. She just couldn't get her mind back to commonplace figures for a while. That evening, Sithwick managed to leave the office at the same time as Susan. His car was parked in the little yard next to the warehouse.

"I'll give you a lift, my dear," he said.

He drove her uptown to the drab old brownstone lodging house.

"This isn't much like my Pelham place, is it?" he said, as he helped her out of the car.

"Terribly! It is terribly dismal."

"Well, you have only to say the word. Consider well, Susan!"

John Sithwick climbed back into his car and, with a "good night," drove off. Susan walked around to a shop and celebrated by getting lamb chops and broccoli for her dinner.

In her room, she got out her cracked plates—dishes that John Sithwick threw away. She smiled. There would be no cracked dishes in that handsome Pelham home! It was stuffy in her room, and she opened a window. Across the narrow yard, other windows had been opened. She could hear the husky wall of some ancient accordion, mingled with the yells of an angry child. In the beautiful house in Pelham, there would be none of this eternal din.

The chops were nicely broiled

Shower Honors Mrs. Churchill

COSTA MESA.—A miscellaneous shower was given Tuesday honoring Mrs. Elizabeth Churchill by Mrs. Karl Anderson, Mrs. E. P. George and Mrs. Ray Bell, in the latter's home at 415 Short street.

The event complimented Mrs. Churchill on her forthcoming marriage to W. A. Rawson of Newport Beach. Present were Messrs. Hugh C. Clark, O. G. Bernard, D. Earl Brown, S. A. Hoke, Ward H. Pilley, Mary Griffin, McAvoy, E. E. George, Elizabeth Churchill, Karl Anderson, Ray Bell and Miss Sarah Conant.

MANY ORANGE EVENTS TOLD

ORANGE.—Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Richardson were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Richardson and children; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson and daughter, Joan; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Richardson and George and Jack Richardson; James Bryant, Jr. and Hugh Woodhead, Lawrence, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hodson and son, Melvin, entertained with a turkey dinner Thursday for Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Hodson and son, Ray, El Modena and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Prichard.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Wickersheim and son, Oliver, Jr., were guests of Wickersheim's sisters, Miss Elsie Wickersheim and Mrs. Lloyd D. McWhirter, Los Angeles. Officer and Mrs. A. H. Westermann entertained Sergeant and Mrs. F. E. Wrye, and children, Patsy Jo and Donald, Riverside; Miss Anna Hafner, Los Angeles and Fred M. Westermann, San Diego, for Thanksgiving dinner.

A dinner Thursday at the home of J. L. Lamp and daughter, Mrs. E. H. Crofoot, North Batavia street, observed the 79th birthday of Mr. Lamp. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Snyder, Redlands; Mr. and Mrs. William Passer, William, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ophal, Alhambra; Miss Doris Crofoot, Whittier College, and Everett Lamp, San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Gillogly and daughter, Helen Gillogly, entertained Mr. and Mrs. James E. Donegan and children, and Mr. Donegan's mother, Mrs. Margaret Donegan, Roseville, Thursday.

Orange Caravan Attends Game

ORANGE.—A caravan with a police escort was to travel to Redondo Beach this afternoon when the Orange High school football team goes to play the Redondo eleven in the Southern California playoffs.

Forming on East Palm avenue near the school at 12 o'clock, the rosters were scheduled to leave not later than 12:20 p. m. The kickoff at Redondo stadium was to be at 2 o'clock.

GUESTS FLEE G. G. BLAZE IN NIGHT

GARDEN GROVE.—Twelve hotel guests fled from the scene of a serious blaze at 10:45 o'clock last night, as fire damaged a business building and for a time threatened the Garden Grove hotel.

The flames broke out in the Garden Grove Hardware store, with firemen reporting that faulty wiring in the ceiling probably was the cause. The local fire department, headed by Chief E. J. Tobias, controlled the flames before they reached the hotel in the upper story of the building. Guests were routed from their beds by smoke, it was reported.

Damage by fire to the hardware store was estimated at $500 by W. M. Wolter, owner. Damage from water will probably run to a higher figure, he said. Wolter said that loss is covered by insurance.

BOLSA HOLIDAY PARTIES TOLD

BOLSA.—Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Post, Mr. and Mrs. George Rainey and family and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Post and son, Raymond, were guests of their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Post, at the family home Thanksgiving day.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Bauer and sons enjoyed a family dinner and theater party in Los Angeles Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Wallingford were Los Angeles visitors on the holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Woodington attended the U. S. C. U. C. L. A. football game Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Vogelzang entertained their daughter, Frances, and Mrs. Chapman and Miss Inez Chapman, Los Angeles, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hoke and daughter were dinner guests of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Frances Kuntz, Fullerton.

Midway Party Attends Wedding

MIDWAY CITY.—Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hensley, Miss Llamie Hensley and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hensley, Taft, attended the wedding of Alfaretta Jackson and John Bell Friday morning at the Little Church of the Flowers, in Glendale.

Miss Jackson, formerly of Eaton, Colo., is a niece of Mr. Hensley, and was given in marriage by her uncle.

The favorite dish of CCC enrollees, a poll shows, is pork and applesauce.

and a treat. The broccoli was also a treat. If she married John Sithwick, she could drive to market and select delicacies every day!

But what would Chet say? "What can he say?" Susan mused to herself. Surely, he could not blame her if she chose the life that John Sithwick could offer her, though he would be hurt, of course.

About 8 o'clock, Susan went down to see Mrs. Jessop, the landlady. This was the day that Susan paid her.

"Hello, dearie—are you glad to see spring here?" Mrs. Jessop greeted her.

"I don't see much spring, Mrs. Jessop—just my room and the backyard, the subway and the dismal old warehouse!" "The landlady took Susan's money. "But ain't it a blessing! to be workin' steady these times, too. Don't forget that."

"Mrs. Jessop—if you were all alone in the world and in my place, and your—I mean, a nice man of about 45 wanted to marry you and give you a lovely country home, with a car and everything—"

"You got that chance?" Mrs. Jessop interrupted excitedly.

"Yes—today."

"And you didn't tell him yes?" "Not yet—I wanted to think about it."

"For pity sake! What else is there to think about except to tell him yes and drag him off to a minister? Don't be a ninny—grab him an' the country home an' car, Miss Morrison!"

Susan laughed. "I'll see," she said.

The next morning, Susan had reached her decision. As she uncovered her typewriter, she told herself that she would soon be through with office work forever.

In the mail, was a letter for her. It was from a lawyer in the little town where her uncle lived. It told her that old Cyrus Morrison had recently died and had left her his entire estate—that it would be to her advantage to come on.

'BORN TO DANCE' WITH ELEANOR POWELL OPENS AT WEST COAST

TAP DANCER IS STAR IN NEW FILM

Virginia Bruce and James Stewart Head Chief Supporting Roles

That peculiarly rhythmic tapping sound which is heard all over town today is merely the echo of Eleanor Powell who once again clinches her title of the world's greatest feminine tap dancer in the musical spectacle, "Born to Dance," which came to the Fox West Coast screen today.

Miss Powell, who first won huzzahs from critics and film audiences alike in "Broadway Melody of 1936," is a delight to behold, a pleasure to listen to and a tremendous treat to lovers of dancing in any form. In her first picture she proved her versatility by switching from tap dancing to ballet in "Born to Dance" she introduces a bewildering array of routines.

In its music, production value and dazzling array of supporting talent, "Born to Dance" in every way lives up to the high standards set by its brilliant star.

The story of "Born to Dance" involves the romance of a small-town girl who falls in love with a navy man and almost loses him to a show girl. James Stewart is the navy man, and Virginia Bruce gives an outstanding portrayal as the temperamental show girl. Also scoring in a topnotch supporting cast are Una Merkel and Sid Silvers, furnishing laughs galore, the lovely-voiced Frances Langford of radio fame, and Buddy Ebsen, the eccentric comedy hoover who scored in "Broadway Melody of 1936."

Heralded as one of the outstanding pictures of the year, "The Devil Is a Sissy!" has been booked by Manager Lester J. Fountain for the Fox Broadway theater next Thursday.

"The Devil Is a Sissy" brings together three of the most famous boy stars in motion pictures. Freddie Bartholomew, who enacted first "David Copperfield," and then "Little Lord Fauntleroy," now appears as an orphan of New York's lower East Side.

Co-starring with Freddie are Jackie Cooper and Mickey Rooney. The story, by Rowland Brown, centers about the trio of boys. Ian Hunter, as Freddie's divorced father, provides touching adult romance with Peggy Conklin portraying a Broadway show girl who is Mickey's aunt. Others in the cast are Gene and Kathlene Lockhart, Sherwood Bailey and Buster Slavin.

The story describes the adventures of the boys who live in crowded city streets without the advantages of decent environment. They band together to buy a tombstone for the father of Mickey Rooney. The father it appears, died in the electric chair in Sing Sing.

In their efforts to achieve a noble purpose the boys tangle with the juvenile court and it is Freddie who eventually saves them.

YOUNG MOTHER FIEND VICTIM

CHICAGO. (AP) — A marauder who attacked and slashed Mrs. Genevieve Richards, 27-year-old invalid mother of two children, left her critically injured today, latest victim in a recent cycle of vicious offenses against Chicago women and girls.

The man climbed through a window of Mrs. Richards' first-floor apartment last night and seized her when she left her bedroom to quiet the barking of a dog which sensed the intruder's presence. The sleeping children, Grant, 6, and Louis, 5, did not awaken.

Detectives declared the attacker probably was the same one who ravished Miss Ann Brasy, 38, in her home only a mile from the Richards' home last Saturday.

FOIL CONVICTS' ESCAPE PLOT

McALESTER Okla. (AP) — "Shoot to kill! If you hit me it's O. K."

Rich Owen, veteran executioner, ignoring his own peril, shouted out that prison maxim and guards' guns killed two prisoners who were attacking him yesterday in an apparent attempt to escape from the state penitentiary here.

Owen, hacked with a hatchet and stabbed in the back with a crude dagger, escaped the bullets. He was not seriously wounded by his assailants.

The convicts, Marland Wells, Marshal county robber, and Roy Glasby, Garfield county automobile thief, were among a work gang of 111 laboring on a wall at the west side of the prison.

Stars of 'Theodora Goes Wild'

"Theodora Goes Wild" will open at the Fox Broadway theater tomorrow. Below is a scene from the rollicking comedy showing Irene Dunne and Melvyn Douglas.

Three Stars in 'The Big Broadcast'

Above is pictured W. C. Fields, comedian, as he appears in "Poppy," which opens Sunday at the State theater for an engagement of four days.

Once Flourishing Oyster Industry Vanishes

(Editor's Note: Federal Writers' project workers, under Ted N. Burrell, Orange county editor, are compiling an Orange county guide. From some of the older histories and documents many odd, interesting and previously unpublished facts are being unearthed. Here is one of a series of such stories to be printed from time to time exclusively in The Santa Ana Journal.)

Oysters are in season. This act brings to the surface the mystery of the Los Angeles-Orange county oyster industry; a mystery that has never been completely solved.

Once Los Angeles and vicinity was launched on its way to become a great oyster distributing point as are Norfolk and Baltimore. Much money was expended and prospects for the development of the industry looked good. Then, suddenly, the enterprise vanished into thin air. Therein lies the mystery.

Industry Thrives Exorbitant freight charges in the early days made oysters shipped here from Chesapeake have the value of a gold nugget, the same size, so in 1892 a company was organized in Los Angeles to raise oysters locally. "Seeds" were imported and planted in the shallow waters of Alamos and Newport bay and at the mouth of the San Gabriel river.

As time went on the oyster beds developed very successfully and reports stated that the local bivalves were on a par to the best

IRENE DUNNE IN COMEDY DEBUT

"Theodora Goes Wild," a rollicking Columbia production which serves to introduce Irene Dunne to motion picture fans in her first comedy assignment, will be shown locally for the first time at the Fox Broadway theater starting tomorrow.

Supported by an exceptionally strong cast, Miss Dunne is permitted to run fancy free through a sprightly tale of a small town girl who wins her big city man in a big-city way. Melvyn Douglas appears opposite Miss Dunne in the leading male role, with Thomas Mitchell, Thurston Hall, Rosalind Keith, Spring Byington, Elizabeth Risdon and Margaret McWade rounding out the cast.

For years Miss Dunne has been known as a dramatic star, portraying such roles as Sabra Cravat in "Cimarron" and the forgotten woman in "Back Street."

The story unfolded in "Theodora" tells of a small town girl who tries writing under a pen name for her own amusement. Her novels, of the ultra-sophisticated variety, land in the best selling class over night. Her publishers had promised to protect the young author's identity, but it is discovered by the handsome young illustrator of her books, the carefree Douglas. Douglas follows her to her home town, manages to win a job there as a gardener, and soon finds himself in love.

When the love is reciprocated the illustrator disappears. Instead of grieving, Theodora takes matters into her own hands. Following the sophisticated approach outlined in her books, she fastens to the city in pursuit. There she engages in a series of hilarious escapades that bring out the type of headlines in her home town newspaper last seen during the Great War.

NEW LOVE TALE FOR BROADWAY

Manager Lester J. Fountain has booked as tender and charming a Cinderella love story as one could wish for in "Along Came Love," the romance of a bargain-basement salesgirl and a handsome young medical student earning his way as a theater doorman. It opens at the Fox Broadway theater next Thursday.

Irene Hervey and Charles Starrett play the leading roles. The story concerns itself with the efforts of Miss Hervey to find on earth a man as handsome, glamorous and romantic as the ancient classic figure of Orion. She finds him in the young doorman. They find they cannot marry and take care of the girl's mother on their meager income. The mother decides to remedy matters in her own way by returning to the burlesque stage. She does, and is arrested, bringing shame upon her little household and making it advisable for Miss Hervey to give up her young doctor rather than have his career blighted by scandal.

She disappears, but things are remedied in shipshape by the girl's former employer, played by Ferdinand Gottschalk. In addition to the above a second feature, "The Devil Is a Sissy," has been booked.

YOUNG ACTOR IS THREAT TARGET

HOLLYWOOD. (AP) — Freddie Bartholomew, 12-year-old film star who earns $1200 a week, was reported to have today "a $50,000 kidnap-extortion plot."

Silence followed the report by his aunt, Mylicent Bartholomew, that the boy actor had been threatened in a letter she received last week.

New Suspect in Slaying Found

SANTA MONICA. (AP) — Santa Monica police traced down clues today indicating William Walthaler, Petaluma chicken rancher, may have been in La Jolla the night Ruth McMur, Y. W. C. A. secretary, was slain last August.

Walthaler has been confined to Patton state mental hospital since he was arrested here Oct. 23 on complaints he was annoying a woman.

Walthaler is believed to have gone to San Diego county after he sold his tiny ranch at Petaluma for $180 several months ago.

Cleaners, Dyers Strike Settled

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP) — Settlement of a strike of 500 cleaning and dyeing plant workers was announced today by union officials and owners of the plants involved. The settlement grants preferential hiring to union members, a 40-hour week and pay increases ranging from $1 to $7 a week, depending upon classes of work.

'POPPY' IS ON STATE BILL SUNDAY

Booked for an engagement of two days, "Poppy," starring W. C. Fields, and "Man Hunt," featuring Ricardo Cortez will open Sunday at the State theater.

"Poppy" deals with the adventures of Fields as a veteran "medicine man," and the young girl, "Poppy," who appears as his daughter. He schemes to have her recognized as the heiress of a large estate, but the scheme is exposed. In the meantime she falls in love with the son of the mayor, and while everything comes out all right for her, the veteran carnival troupier, Fields, departs for fresh pastures when he realizes that her happiness is assured.

In the cast with Fields are Rochelle Hudson, Richard Cromwell, Lynne Overman, Catharine Doucet and Rosalind Keith.

"Man Hunt" is the story of a small town reporter who plans to elope with the country school teacher and go to the city to get a newspaper job. But a bandit who escapes and takes refuge in the vicinity of the small town upset all his calculations when his sweetheart helps the bandit to outwit his pursuers. Made the laughing stock of the police and city reporters when he fails to lead them to the bandit's hideout, the small town reporter finally outwits the bandit, has the laugh last on the "city fellers" and finally wins the girl.

Supporting Cortez in the cast are Marguerite Churchill, William Gargan, the late Chic Sale, George E. Stone, Addison Richards, Richard Purcell and Olin Howland.

WALKER'S SIGN BEST FILMS

All the best pictures of this and the coming year are promised by the management of Walker's theater as a result of a contract entered into by the theater and every film company of consequence in the United States.

The companies from which Walker's theater has contracted to purchase all the best pictures produced are Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, United Artists, Warner Bros., Columbia, Paramount, R. K. O., and Twentieth Century-Fox, as well as first run pictures of the Gaumont-British company.

In addition to screening all the big, new pictures produced, the theater recently has instituted a policy of bringing back big, old-time favorites when sufficient customers make requests for such films. One of these to be brought back because of such requests is "China Seas," which will show next Thursday for a three-day engagement.

AT CATLAND HOME Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Catland and daughter, Irene, of 419 Wellingdon, entertained at dinner for 12 on Thanksgiving day. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Catland and daughters, Marjorie and Mary Alice, of Southgate, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Catland and children, Betty, Mary and Alfred, Jr., of Alhambra.

WEST COAST BOOKS 'VALIANT IS THE WORD FOR CARRIE'

All the power, nobility and lofty sentiment which made Barry Benefield's novel, "Valiant Is the Word for Carrie," a best seller, live anew, aided by the touch of the motion picture camera and the performances of a great cast, in the screen version of the novel which opens at the Fox West Coast theater next Saturday.

"Valiant Is the Word for Carrie" brings to the screen Gladys George, famous stage actress, in the title role. She is supported by Arlene Judge, Dudley Digges, Harry Carey and Isabel Jewell. "Valiant Is the Word for Carrie" is the story of a woman of shady reputation who longs for a family of her own. She adopts two waifs, played by Jackie Moran and Charles Wyatt, and takes them to a distant city. Her struggle is a hard one but she rears them to glorious young manhood and womanhood. The adult roles of the children are played by Arlene Judge and John Howard.

Miss Judge is in love with Howard, but he doesn't understand. He becomes involved with an adventuress and, broken-hearted, the girl marries another. In an effort to regain the harmony which always prevailed in the family Carrie goes to the adventures, played by Isabel Jewell, and offers her money. Through this she becomes involved in a jailbreak and is arrested.

Before the trial she is confronted with a grave decision which must be made at once. She can fight the case and win her freedom, which would enable her to return to her little brood. But this would reveal her early reputation which would becloud the lives of the children who do not know. If she doesn't fight the case she will be jailed. But the past will be sealed and the children will never know.

WALKER'S TO SCREEN BIG BROADCAST

Hailed as the outstanding fun feature of the year, "The Big Broadcast of 1937" opens Sunday at Walker's Theater, with "Wives Never Know" as the second feature and a newscast to complete the bill. This big bill will show for four days.

Some of the biggest names in radio and the movies are in the cast of "The Big Broadcast of 1937." Headed by Jack Benny, the cast includes George Burns and Gracie Allen, Bob Burns, Martha Raye, Shirley Ross, Ray Milland, Frank Forest, Benny Fields, Benny Goodman and his orchestra, Leopold Stokowski and his symphony orchestra, Louis Dapron, Eleanor Whitney, Larry Adler, Virginia Weidler, David Holt and Billy Lee.

The plot of the picture concerns the efforts of Gracie Allen, as the sponsor of a radio show, to stage her idea of what she considers a good radio program. Despite the attempts of Husband George and Studio Director Benny to straighten her out, she puts the idea across and creates a sensation.

Charlie Ruggles and Mary Boland, with the aid of Adolphe Menjou, Vivienne Osborne, Claude Gilmore, Fay Holden, Louise Beavers, Constance Bergen and Purnell Pratt, stage a great fun fest in "Wives Never Know."

It is the story of a happily married husband who takes the advice of a love expert and starts a love affair just to keep his wife's nervous system properly tuned by keeping her slightly jealous. But things begin to happen when the husband selects for his "affair" an actress with whom the love expert is in love.

Popular Young Faculty Member Becomes Bride in Evening Rites in Chapel

Miss Knudson Is Pretty Bride

Bride, Bridegroom Both Occidental Graduates

Wearing a lovely wedding gown of white lace over satin, made with a train extending from a fitted jacket and with a little standing pleated collar and long tight sleeves, Miss Frances Knudson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Knudson of 618 East Walnut street, was united in marriage on Thanksgiving evening with John Hawkes Green of Riverside, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy J. Green of Orange.

The bridal costume was enhanced by a long tulle veil which was formed into a cap shape by a circular wreath of orange blossoms around the head.

Bouvardia, bridal roses, and gardenias formed the shower bouquet carried by the bride, the gardenias in the center later removed as a corsage for the going away outfit.

In Chapel Setting
The bride's father gave her in marriage in the impressive ceremony performed at 8 o'clock in the bride's chapel of the First Methodist church.

Attending her as matron of honor was Mrs. C. K. Slacey of Long Beach, who wore a deep rose taffeta frock, made with a pleated stand-up collar which fell over the shoulders to form short sleeves, and with a flare skirt in a short train at the back. Her bouquet was of tea roses.

Bridesmaids, Mrs. Chester Bratch and Mrs. Charles Webber of Santa Ana, both wore blue slipper satin gowns, made alike with square necklines, puff sleeves, and flared skirts. They carried Talisman roses.

Rol Benner of Los Angeles was the best man; and ushers were Leonard Lockhart of Santa Ana and Read Tuddenham of Berkeley.

Miss Ruth Armstrong presided at the piano in the chapel, she and Edward Burns, with his cello, playing a beautiful arrangement of songs before the service and both playing the two wedding marches.

As a background for the bridal party, three large bouquets were arranged on the platform and at either side, before a banking of palms and ferns and lighted by tapers in tall candelabra.

Dr. George Warner, pastor of the church, performed the marriage rites in the presence of 150 guests; and a reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, lovely with white flowers and candles.

After cutting the wedding cake, the bride changed to a rust crepe frock with black accessories, and departed with her new husband for a short trip, their real honeymoon being postponed until later when they have their vacations.

To Live Here

They will make their home at 618½ East Walnut street, Mrs. Green continuing her teaching duties in Hoover school here and Mr. Green returning to his position as a teacher in the commercial department of Riverside High school.

Both bride and bridegroom are graduates of Occidental college, the former receiving her earlier schooling in Santa Ana High school and junior college and also taking a year at Cumnock School of Expression in Los Angeles, where she is a member of Junior Ebell club in Santa Ana.

Mr. Green attended Harvard Military academy and Santa Ana Junior college before going to Occidental, and later took his fifth year at the University of California at Berkeley.

Seventy friends attended the reception planned by the bride's parents in their home, where the bridal party and the mothers and fathers of the bride and groom received after the wedding.

Assist at Reception

Mrs. Knudson, mother of the bride, was in a blue lace gown, with a corsage of Hollywood roses, and Mr. Green's mother was in black velvet with gardenias.

Others assisting at the home were Mrs. John McCoy; the Misses Jo and Dulce Green of Orange, sisters of the bridegroom, and Miss Marcela Turner of Orange; Miss Viola Tummond, who finished cutting the cake after the bride had cut the first piece; Miss Mildred Tummond, who helped arrange the flowers and presided over the guest book; and Mrs. Gary Browning (Eloise Owens), of Los Angeles.

Other reception guests included Messrs. and Mesdames John Teasman, G. A. Rowell, C. E. McQuillan, John McCoy, Edward Burns, E. L. Morrison, and Ivan MacFarlane, Mrs. Mamie Gibson, Mrs. Lillian Mitchell, Miss Armstrong, and Dr. and Mrs. George Warner of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Rowell, Miss Amy Quarrie, Mrs. H. D. Quarrie, and the groom's family, from Orange.

Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Niles and daughter, Laura, and Mrs. Mary Cio and daughter, Patricia, of Covina; Dr. and Mrs. John Harris of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Mildred Beemer of Pala; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Field, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Browning, Mr. and Mrs. A. Simms

Miss Betty Rowland, above, charming daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Elliott H. Rowland of 2418 Fairmont, will become the bride of Terry Stephenson, Jr., on the day after Christmas. Betrothal of the young couple was told recently at a formal tea at the Rowland home.

Hostess Trio Presides at Luncheon

Mrs. Ray Chandler, Mrs. Mark Lacy and Mrs. H. T. Dunning presided as co-hostesses yesterday at a lovely luncheon party at Daniel's, seating their guests at two long tables appointed in a motif of white and green.

After a delicious luncheon, card games were enjoyed in the lounge, and a prize was presented to high score holder at each of the seven tables at the close of the afternoon. Those receiving the awards were the Mesdames A. I. Mellen, thin, Wade Warner, Fred Rowland, 13 relatives and friends at Daniel's, Adam Zaiser and R. G. Tutthill.

A pretty corsage marked the place of Mrs. Emrys D. White, one of the guests, as a courtesy for the birthday anniversary she was celebrating yesterday.

Invited to the charming function were the Mesdames James Irvine, Herbert Miller, George Briggs, Howard Timmons, Lillian Flood of Pasadena, C. V. Davis, Rowland Yeagle, Sarah Johnston Haddon, Dexter Ball, H. B. Van Dien, A. G. Flagg, L. G. Swales, L. A. Chenoweth, E. D. White, H. B. Lutes, Parker Roper, Charles Kendall, R. C. Hoiles, Walter Vandermast, Walter Prince, G. P. Campbell, Harry Hanson, R. G. Tutthill, A. W. Rutan, H. T. Duckett, Adam Zaiser, Hettie Jones of Laguna Beach and A. Gregory of Los Angeles, and Miss Carolyn White of Montana.

LUTES FAMILY IN REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Lutes of 812 South Garney defied superstition when they entertained a coterie of 13 relatives and friends at Thanksgiving dinner Thursday evening, centering their table with a bowl of glowing fruits and red tapers in crystal holders.

Several of the young people had attended the game in Los Angeles before the dinner, for which the following gathered: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lutes of Orange, parents of the host; Harold Lutes, son of the home, who is a student at a school of optometry in Los Angeles; Miss Vera Beers of U. C. L. A.; Mr. and Mrs. Halstead McCormac of La Habra, daughter and son-in-law of the hosts; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Tymer and daughter, Ruth, of Anaheim; A. Flinn of Anaheim, and Miss Helen Mahaffey of Orange.

WHITSON FAMILY DINES TOGETHER

A custom of many years was not changed this Thanksgiving for Mrs. Mary Whitson despite her 84 years. With the assistance of her daughter, Miss Martha Whitson, and her companion, Mrs. Esther Kane, she gathered her family at her home for a bounteous turkey repast.

Several were unable to attend, but those who did gather around the yellow chrysanthemum centered table of their mother were Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Whitson, and Miss Martha Whitson of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Whitson of Long Beach, and Mrs. Katherine Raeburn of Garden Grove.

and children, Evelyn and Jacquelyn, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Holyoke, and Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Edwards of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Alexander and Mrs. Emma Adams of San Bruno; Mr. and Mrs. Evan Miller and daughter, Andy, of Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Taggart and family of Anaheim; and the members of the bridal party.

Santa Anans In Double Wedding

Two attractive young Santa Ana cousins and professional women chose last Wednesday afternoon as the date for their respective weddings, and because each desired the least possible amount of ceremony decreed that not even their immediate families would be present.

Miss Clarine Palmer, daughter of Mrs. Blanche Palmer, 522 East Washington street, and her cousin, Miss Blanche Temple, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Temple, 433 South Broadway, chose to have the Rev. Moffett Rhodes, former pastor of the Spurgeon Memorial Methodist church of Santa Ana and now active in San Diego, to officiate at their marriage rites in San Diego. Miss Palmer became the bride of Robert Walton, Anaheim rancher and son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Walton of Anaheim, while Miss Temple was wedded to Forest Leake, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Leake of Midway City.

Miss Palmer, who after being graduated from Santa Ana High school attended Oregon State college, where she was a member of Alpha Xi Delta, social sorority, and who later was graduated from the Alameda hospital nurses' training school in Oakland, chose a simple frock of duobonnet velvet, with an appropriate bridal corsage. Miss Temple's gown contrasted attractively, since it was of dark blue velvet. Her flowers were also in a fragrant corsage.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Walton left for a honeymoon in the south, after which they will live on the Walton ranch near Anaheim. Mrs. Walton has been on the nursing staff of St. Joseph's hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Leake also are honeymooning in the south, and will make their home in Santa Ana, where both are connected with the Federal Forum project. Mrs. Leake was graduated from Southwestern University in Texas.

On her way to Tucson, Ariz., to establish her new home is Mrs. Hansel U. Coulson, above, the former Barbara Horton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Horton, pioneer Santa Anans, who was married in a beautiful wedding ceremony Thanksgiving afternoon in the Episcopal Church of the Messiah. Her lovely dress, made on simple lines, was of bridal velvet, and her veil, borrowed from her sister-in-law, Mrs. Chester E. Horton, of rose and point and dutch lace. Cream roses, gardenias, camellias, and bouvardia made up the shower bouquet.

CHAT AWHILE WITH BETTY

By BETTY COX

Did you have a happy Thanksgiving?

After all the turkey dinners devoured last Thursday, I begin to wonder if the turkey by now is not as extinct as the famed dodo bird.

We all had something, no doubt, to be thankful for, but Mrs. E. L. Lemon was especially grateful to a guardian angel who brought her through a narrow escape with little more than a few bruises and scratches, though a badly damaged car.

"Had the man who crashed broadside into us at Costa Mesa last Saturday been going faster (and he was doing plenty)," she writes us, "I might not have lived to see Thanksgiving day."

We needn't be too ghoulish with too many accounts of narrow escapes, but these just happened to come to our attention all at the same time, and this one ended with a smile.

Carroll (better known as "Clabber") Clem, former Santa Ana boy now superintending mines in Herin, Ill., tried to use the same track as the Missouri Pacific off the way to work one recent morning, and the race ended in a tie, Clabber's car not living to tell the tale, but the driver escaping without a scratch.

Clabber is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Clem of 1709 West Walnut street, Santa Ana.

Barbara Davis is among the college-bred home for the holiday, coming down from Berkeley this week to spend Thanksgiving with her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Davis. Others sharing the day at the Davis home were Dr. and Mrs. E. F. Bruning of Santa Ana and Richard Kraemer of Anaheim.

The Ray Chandlers and daughter, Kay, celebrated Thanksgiving day by moving into their new home at 1911 Heliotrope drive.

An interesting visitor in the city this week was Lola Sanblom of Glendale, "poet of the plains," who has recently published a book of her poems entitled "Buffalo Sod." Her delightful little volume, decorated on the cover with a sod house, is appearing in bookstores here and throughout the Southland, and already attracting as much attention as an earlier publication, "Silk Purse," which was given enthusiastic mention by John Steven McGroarty.

Mrs. Sanblom, who was one of four authors to be honored at the California Library association luncheon in Los Angeles this fall, writes delightfully of the prairie pioneers, especially of the prairie and is also the author of several plays. She was acquainted with the late Arthur Truman Merrill, well known poet of California, and joins Santa Anans in a true appreciation of the poems of our own Beulah May.

What sparkling young matron was it on Turkey Day who misquoted "The Gobbler 'il gitcha ef ya don't watch out?"

To augment our list of the 10 hardest words to spell in the English language as listed in "An American Doctor's Odyssey," here are someone's selections for the 20 most beautiful: Ambrosial, atonement, hallowed, azure, vintage, haven, rosemary, ripple, violin, sonorous, golden, mellow, beauteous, moonlight, amber, margarite, sapphire, cadence, basilica, and chrysolite. What do you think?

Among local football fans glimpsed at the Fullerton stadium Thursday were Charlotte and Fritz Elliott, Katherine and Charles McDaniel, Blanche and John McCoy, Mayor Rowland and daughters, Ninette Wilson and Barbara, Stanley Hardin (ex-gridiron hero) and his new bride, Bill Spurgeon and Col. Wellington, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Olson, Dr. Larry Cameron and his young son, George and Henriette Walker, and several thousand others.

Another deep bow to Santa Ana's Business and Professional

Chapel Scene Of Local Rites

A patio setting made lovely with fall flowers and growing ferns was the scene of a simple wedding on Thanksgiving day when Miss Alda Weaver of Santa Ana was united in matrimony with Kenneth Gorton of Newport Beach.

Occurring in the Santa Ana Wedding Chapel, the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Earl C. Bloss, and was preceded by several lovely piano selections, played by Mrs. Bernard Wash, aunt of the bride, who had played the same music many years ago at Miss Weaver's mother's wedding.

Attired in a velvet afternoon costume of rust with brown accessories, Miss Weaver wore a strand of pearls belonging to Miss Phyllis Hewitt, a close friend of the family as her "something borrowed." Her flowers were a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses and soft fern which blended harmoniously with the tones of her gown.

Their only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Wilson of Santa Ana. Mrs. Wilson wore a formal afternoon frock of moire with black accessories and a quaint little round nosegay of Talisman rosebuds at the throat.

For travelling, the new Mrs. Gorton chose a brown wool suit with green and brown accessories. The couple plans to honeymoon in San Francisco, after which they will be at home at 2000 East Central avenue, Balboa.

The groom has been associated with the Newport Beach police department for the past several years. Mrs. Gorton is secretary in the district office of the Southern California Telephone company of Santa Ana.

The guest list included only members of the couple's families and a few close friends. They were Mrs. Lucy Weaver, Miss Phyllis Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Weaver and children, Marilyn and Stanley, Bert Goodale, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Wilson of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gorton and Miss Catherine Gorton of Newport Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wash of Van Nuys; and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Goodale and Miss Beryl Goodale, Glendale.

HARVEST SCENE IS DANCE SETTING

In a setting of cornstalks and scarecrows and bright autumn colors, students of the Santa Ana High school enjoyed their annual harvest ball put on by the campus inter-club council Wednesday night in Andrews gymnasium at the school.

Jimmy Mann's orchestra played for dancing, including several specialty numbers in their program, and punch was served throughout the evening. Several of the faculty advisors were present at the dance, which was preceded by a gala scavenger hunt, lasting over a period of three days before the party. The dance was semi-formal.

TWO ENTERTAIN AT DINNER

A pleasant and mutually enjoyable event is the Thanksgiving day dinner party which Miss Alma Karlsson and Miss Chamaris Beaman give each year for those of their friends who do not have many family connections in Santa Ana, and for, in particular, little Miss Tui Tucker, whose birthday anniversary it is.

After a delicious turkey dinner served at a table effectively decorated with fruits and autumn leaves and tall green tapers in green holders, daintily-wrapped presents for the 12-year-old honoree were brought in.

Those participating in the pleasant meal and social hours that followed were Mrs. Alma Tucker and Miss Tui Tucker of Eagle Rock, Miss Emma Meyers and Miss Hazel Gray of Long Beach, Miss Gertrude Clingerman of Goshen, Ind., Miss Frances Emans of Los Angeles, Miss Lena Thomas, Mrs. Hazel Northcross, and Mrs. Emmett Elliott. Miss Martha Whitson was a visitor later in the day.

HAPPY DAY AT COTANT HOME

Mrs. A. L. Cotant and daughter, Margaret, of Tustin avenue entertained informally at a family dinner Thursday, gathering the children and their families at home as they do each year.

Those enjoying the turkey meal were Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Cotant and children, Mary Elizabeth, Jean, and Eileen, of San Diego; Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Baade of Pomona, Victor Morrison of Santa Ana, and the hostess and Miss Margaret Cotant.

Mrs. Baade, daughter of the hostess, remained for a week-end visit. C. L. Cotant, formerly an officer in a local bank, enjoyed his first stay in the city.

THE PHILIPPI FAMILY
Mr. and Mrs. George Philipp of Hesperia, joined the Segerstrom family in Santa Ana over the Thanksgiving holidays, gathering for most of their reunion at the ranch home of Mrs. C. J. Segerstrom.

The visitors included the Charles and the Eric Segerstrom families, with the former's daughter, Martha, from Mills college, and Marjorie, daughter of Eric Segerstrom, from Stanford, accompanying them.

HIGH HONORS

Mrs. Charles Woodfill, above, received national honors recently when she was elected president of the general assembly of Kappa Delta Phi sorority. President also of the local chapter, Mrs. Woodfill attended the convocation held in Santa Monica, at which it was decided to hold the 1937 convention in Santa Ana.

Woman's Club Inviting Guests

Tuesday is to be guest day for the Woman's club of Santa Ana, members of which are urged to invite their friends to hear the illustrated lecture on lovely table arrangements and selection of table wares which has been arranged for the day.

An authority on china, glassware, and silver is to come from a Los Angeles store, bringing with her interesting sets with which she will effect several examples of table arrangement. In her talk, she will describe some of the better known patterns in table appointments and will give her hearers advice and suggestions for selection and combination of designs.

Mrs. E. G. Maier, program chairman for the day, has arranged the delightful program, and has planned a tea hour for the close, making this December meeting of the club one of the social meetings of the year. Every member is welcome to bring one or more guests to enjoy the afternoon with the club group in the American Legion hall.

BAZAR FRIDAY AT M. E. CHURCH

Cooked foods, fancywork, candy, and a chicken dinner—that is a part of the menu for the big annual bazaar of the First Methodist church which will be held next Friday afternoon and evening in the church at Spurgeon and French streets.

Hours of the bazar are from 2 until 9 o'clock, with a chicken dinner served from 5 o'clock on, according to announcement from the Dorcas society, sponsors of the affair.

Many valuable suggestions for Christmas gift shoppers will be found in the booths, it is stated, and tickets for the dinner may be secured at the church office.

CLUB DINES AT DANIGERS

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Chenoweth of 2511 North Park boulevard were hosts Tuesday evening to their dinner bridge club, taking their guests to Danigers for dinner and back to their home for bridge. Enjoying the gathering were Mr. and Mrs. E. D. White, Col. and Mrs. M. B. Wellington, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Carden, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. William Spurgeon and the hosts.

THE KNOX FAMILY

Mr. and Mrs. John Knox presided as hosts in their home at 1628 Spurgeon street Thursday, serving a delicious turkey dinner to a guest group who included Mr. and Mrs. Chet Stafford and son of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Salveson and son of Olive, Mr. and Mrs. James Walker and daughter, Mrs. Gail Jordan and son, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Knox, and John Knox, Jr.

FAMILY GATHERING

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sharpless and Margaret and Billy entertained at a turkey dinner Thursday, inviting as their guests Mrs. Sharpless' parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bulach of Long Beach, and an old friend, John Bolson of Whittier, who are spending the week-end at the Sharpless home. Yesterday, a second family dinner marked the birthday anniversary of Mr. Bulach.

Thanksgiving Dinner Is Farewell

Thanksgiving occasioned both a family gathering and a farewell courtesy in the Jackson and Wolfe families of East Chestnut street. Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Jackson of Portland, Ore., came down to spend the week with the former's brother, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Jackson of Chestnut street, and Caleb Jackson, Jr., of Los Angeles also joined them for the holiday.

On Thanksgiving day the group joined Mr. and Mrs. Jesse B. Wolfe, niece and nephew of the Jacksons, and their family in a reunion dinner at the Wolfe home, 514 East Chestnut, the affair being in the nature of a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe, who are returning soon to their home in China.

Places at the family table were marked for Mr. and Mrs. Jackson of Portland, Caleb Jackson of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson of Santa Ana, Miss Mabel Whiting, Mrs. Edith Thatch, Mrs. Alberta Husted, mother of the hostess, and Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe and daughter, Lucile, and son, Jesse, Jr. Miss Wolfe is home from Pomona for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe plan to sail on the Taiyo Maru on Dec. 5, if it sails when scheduled, and will arrive in Yokohama on Christmas day, going thence to Tsinan, in Shantung province, where they are connected with the medical college of Cheelo University.

Mr. Wolfe, who has visited colleges of the Southland during his stay here this summer and fall, will resume his duties as business manager of the college hospital, and Mrs. Wolfe will again take charge of the medical and surgical stores.

Mr. Wolfe plans to continue at Pomona, and Jesse, Jr., who is in school in Santa Ana, will remain in the home here with his grandmother, Mrs. Alberta Husted, Mr. and Mrs. K. K. Thompson of Pasadena coming down to live with them this winter.

On Sunday, as another farewell party, three families plan to have dinner together, picnic style, out at Irvine park, the Wolfe family being joined for the occasion by Dr. and Mrs. John Bower of this city, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cave of Pasadena.

LINDSAYS ARE FAMILY HOSTS

The Thanksgiving hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Lindsay took the form of a housewarming at their lovely new home at 5672 Tryon road, Los Feliz hills. Mrs. Lindsay was formerly Miss Edith McFadden.

A family mid-day dinner with turkey menu and table decorations appropriate to the day was served to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. McFadden, Flora and Robert McFadden of Santa Ana, Mr. and Mrs. Gertrude Hinds and little daughter Eleanor of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lasby, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lindsay of Santa Ana. Mrs. Robert McFadden of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Schweissinger and family of Eagle Rock, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Calkins and children, Lyman, Almina and Elizabeth of Inglewood, Miss Helen Holt of Wilmington, Del., and Miss Ramona Moore of Redlands.

MINNESOTANS IN REUNION

With an eastern visitor as the honored guest, members of the R. J. Howland family enjoyed a happy reunion Thanksgiving day at their home at 320 East Bishop. Their guests included Mrs. F. W. Howland of Northfield, Minn., mother of the host, who arrived recently to spend the winter with her son and his family; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kegg and the latter's uncle, Wilbur Reed, Mrs. Mayme Thompson and daughter, Dolores, of Long Beach; and Mr. and Mrs. Nels Parsons and daughter, Myrtle, friends of long standing who also arrived recently from Northfield to make their home in Santa Ana.

CARNIVAL IS HUGE SUCCESS

Roosevelt P.-T. A.'s carnival, an event of the week just past, was a decided success, according to all reports.

Dinner was served to more than 100, and booths of foods and fancywork did a rushing business throughout the carnival hours.

The program in the auditorium, receiving enthusiastic applause, included piano accordion numbers by A. Scherino, dances by some of Verna Galt's pupils, and a clever negro play by Richard and Jack Northrup.

IN GOLDEN HOME

Thanksgiving was a happy day in the household of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Golden of 1004 Kilson Drive, who entertained as their guests the latter's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson and son, Eugene, of North Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Koerber of Moline, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. George Peters, parents of Mrs. Golden, and Gloria and Ruth Golden of the home. Catanasters and poinsettias were lovely decorations through the rooms and on the dining table.

BIG VARIETY FROM KVOE TONIGHT

Music, Drama, News, Gossip to Make Up Schedule

Classical and popular music are scheduled in approximately equal proportions on KVOE tonight with dramas, comedy, mystery skits and other features to fill out a well-balanced schedule of entertainment.

"Eb and Zeb" at 6:30 will tell how the village pest, "Hector," is getting along, now that he is apparently released from his contract with "Major Barnes" as a stunt flier. However, a surprise is expected.

The famous Sons of the Pioneers will entertain at 6:45 with more of their equally famous songs and 7 o'clock will bring a half-hour of popular, early evening dance rhythm.

Tonight's "Through the Hollywood Lens" program at 7:30 will tell what happens when a noted star of Hollywood is asked to co-star with Mickey Mouse, said being Grace Moore. Other results of the Hollywood reporter's "snooping" about the film city will reveal Walter Huston's attitude toward divorce, what Barbara Stanwyck's 4-year-old son calls Robert Taylor, and other notes. Paul Martin and the studio orchestra will feature, among other dance tunes, "In the Chapel in the Moonlight," "Midnight Blue" and "To Mary with Love."

A half-hour presentation of the Salon String ensemble is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock, with a variety of light classics listed. Among them, "Lorelei," "Kinky Head," "Heavenly Night" and "The One I Love."

Following the KVOE-Journal news broadcast at 8:30, Herbert Allen will preside at the console of the pipe organ to play Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsody," "Ave Maria" and "I Love You Truly" during a special "Garden of Melody" presentation.

More, mysterious things are promised with tonight's broadcast of "The Hawk" at 11 o'clock.

Cecil Faces Term In Penitentiary!

Well, the worst and unexpected has happened! Cecil Shortridge has been sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary!

When the jury brought in the verdict of "guilty" Cecil's aunt fainted and was carried out of the courtroom. Cecil swore to "get even" with everyone concerned if his aunt died.

That's the setting for tonight's chapter of "Cecil and Sally," the "comic strip of the air," scheduled daily except Sundays at 6 in the evening on KVOE, one of the most popular broadcasts on the air.

Announce Church Radio Services

Services and sermon topics for the Calvary church of Santa Ana to be held tomorrow in the Ebell club auditorium at 625 French street, are announced by the pastor, the Rev. Frank E. Lindgren, as follows:

11 a. m.: "How the Human Is Made Glorious."

7 p. m., services will be conducted by the young people. Both services will be broadcast from KVOE by direct wire.

What Does Your Hand Tell About You?

What tales your hands do tell—to one who knows the fascinating secrets of palmistry.

Do the hands in the illustration give you clues for studying your own?

A. Have you delicate little oval nails? Then you're superstitious—find this world tough. Is your thumb square, easily bent back? You're sentimental and sympathetic.

B. Or have you long broad, strong nails like these? You've a well-balanced personality. That large, well-proportioned thumb indicates strength of character.

C. Or is your hand square? You're conventional, a respecter of law and order. And the Heart Line rising between the first and second fingers means that common sense rules your affections.

Our 32-page booklet—with clear diagrams—tells more about the lines, mounts and stars in your hand. Read your character, amuse your friends this fascinating way. Send 10c for your copy of Secrets of Palmistry to The Santa Ana Journal, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

TONIGHT'S PROGRAMS

Amos 'n' Andy, who have been taking care of their own program pretty well for 10, these many years, are going to ring in a bunch of help. On Friday, Dec. 4, they will present, of all things, a minstrel show, with themselves in the end rolls and Bill Hay as inter-locutor. This will be a regular Friday feature.

Blonde Betty Davis will throw the switch at 7:45 p. m. on the Hollywood Santa Claus lane, and the ceremony will be broadcast from KFWB.

LENSKI, STOUT ARE TO PLAY AT ABBEY

Organ Music Also Will Be Featured During Sunday Program

The Musical Memory hour program to be given in Melrose Abbey chapel Sunday afternoon will present Vladimir Lenski and John Hart Stout playing Bach's "Concerto" written for two violins.

This concerto, which Bach wrote in the prime of life, is said to be one of his most exquisite compositions. The organ accompaniment for this beautiful composition will be ably rendered by Dorothy Gutzman on the cathedral organ.

Frances La Rue Sommers of Anaheim will play three organ numbers, "Hour of Devotion" (Rathbun); "Berceuse" (Kunder) and "Now the Day Is Over."

Stout will also play a group of violin numbers which includes, "Polonaise" (Wieniawski); "Scherzo" (Liszt); and "By the Brook" (Boisdeffre). As a violin duet, Tchaikovsky's "Andante Cantabile" (from the quartet), will be given by Vladimir Lenski and John Hart Stout.

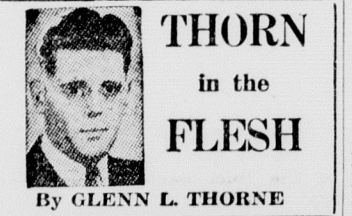

Vladimir Lenski is well known as a master violinist and teacher, John Stout being one of his talented pupils. Both Miss Gutzman and Mrs. Sommers have been heard on previous Memory Hour programs.

The program will begin promptly at 3 o'clock and is open to the general public.

Mission Series To Close Sunday

The eight-day preaching mission at the Church of the Brethren which has been conducted during the past week by Dr. Roy A. Crist, head of the department of religion at La Verne college, will be concluded at the Sunday 9:30 a. m. services tomorrow, when Dr. Crist will preach on "The Height of Christian Experience."

Tonight's sermon subject will be "The Beauty of Holiness." Tomorrow night, communion services will be held under the direction of the pastor, the Rev. Herman B. Landis.

By GLENN L. THORNE

Last week we left Paul in Rome, a prisoner, where we find him today writing to Philemon concerning brotherhood.

Brotherly love is an attribute of big men. I read recently where the Prince of Wales knelt at the altar to receive holy communion. A poor laborer had pushed up the aisle and knelt beside him. An officer came to remove the poor man, but the Prince interposed and said, "At the table of the Lord there is no difference. We are all children of the King."

Brotherly love is the sort of love we expect to exist between brothers. We may love the stranger with the love of pity or with the love of respect. But a brotherly love is different; it is a bond.

Paul, an example, said "Let brotherly love continue." Think it over: Would there be the unrest, strife, anguish, evil, in the world today if we were following Paul's advice for brotherly love?

Then let's bring it closer home: Let's let that love which Paul recommended from experience, continue in strength to cover a brother's faults, and to protect and deliver him from danger and distress. But it is a heart love, and is not put on like a false face.

Story of the Bible Told in Pictures

CHRIST CALMS THE STORM.—The subject of this illustration, from Merian's story of the Bible in pictures, engraved in 1625-1630, is taken from an incident related in the first three Gospels. According to Matthew the story reads, "And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, inasmuch that the ship was covered with the waves; but He was asleep. And His disciples came to Him, and awoke Him, saying, Lord, save us; we perish. And He saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm. But the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him?" After the voyage, which probably was one of the sea of Galilee, Christ landed in the country of the Gergesenes, where He cast out devils from two men.

Old Fashioned Music Will Be Featured Sunday

Those who love old-time music and old-fashioned ways will be specially catered to at the Sunday evening services this week at the Christian and Missionary Alliance.

Two prizes will be given at the services, one to the person bringing the oldest Bible, and one to the person bringing the oldest songbook.

All old-time songs will be used in the services and the pastor, the Rev. C. D. Hicks, will preach on the subject, "Seeking the Old Paths."

Young Violinist

John Hart Stout, who was an outstanding performer at the recent San Diego exposition, will play tomorrow on the Musical Memory hour program at Melrose Abbey mausoleum. Young Stout, a pupil of Vladimir Lenski, is an outstanding member of Orange county's younger musical group.

TO SHOW TALKIE AT CHURCH

"Beyond the Shadows," a modern talkie, will be shown at the First Methodist church Sunday at Everybody's Vespers, 5:30 p. m.

At the worship meeting in the morning, at 9:30 o'clock, Dr. Herman Beinfuhr will speak. He is the director of Wesley Foundation for the Southern California conference, and has personal charge of this work at U. C. L. A. and Los Angeles Junior college.

Dr. Beinfuhr, a capable man in his field, is an orator of ability. Church school follows the morning worship; the Epworth League and the Find-Yourself-Club follows Everybody's Vespers.

REV. HEBERLY TO PREACH HERE

The Rev. H. H. Heberly, D. D., conference superintendent of the southern district of the United Brethren conference, will be present at the local church, corner of Third and Shelton street, and will deliver the sermon Sunday at 7 p. m. It was announced today by the Rev. Everett E. Johnson, pastor.

The Rev. Mr. Heberly is pastor of the Palms United Brethren church, and is an able lecturer as well as a well-known church leader.

RADIO FAMILY WILL SING

A service of special interest will be held at the Four Square church Sunday evening when the singing Morgan family, well-known radio artists, will be present to entertain with several musical numbers.

The family of eight children, the oldest of whom is 15, play many instruments, sing, and entertain generally.

After the musical program the Rev. Alice W. Parham will preach a short sermon on "The Laughing Fool." The services will begin at 7 p. m. instead of 7:30 p. m.

MATHER FAMILY DINES
Mr. and Mrs. Cotton Mather and their three children, Dick, Katherine, and Ross, had but one guest at a quiet little family Thanksgiving dinner this year. Mrs. M. Binfuhr of Los Angeles dined with them and remained over night.

CLASS TO MEET
The Santa Ana Bible school will meet in the Sycamore street lobby of the Y. M. C. A. building Sunday from 9:30 a. m. to 10:45 a. m.

SCHEDULE AT CHURCH IS CHANGED

Unitarian Service in Morning Will Shift During Holidays

The Unitarian church of Santa Ana announced a change in schedule with the advent of the Christmas season, with the regular 11 a. m. services being changed and held at 7:30 p. m.

This Sunday, however, the service will be held at 7 p. m. in the Fullerton Presbyterian church, where Paul Veley will read "The Green Pastures," assisted by a group of colored singers, who will sing the spirituals of the play.

On Wednesday the Rev. Julia N. Budlong will discuss the maritime strike, with particulars gleaned from her recent San Francisco trip.

GROWERS PLAN FOR FUTURE

Contracts, prices, grading, and a new policy on union concerns Orange county tomato growers today as they met with others of Southern California in a session at Chico.

Commission merchants at Los Angeles have indicated they will refuse to handle tomatoes in used lugs. Growers today were to determine what stand to take on the question.

Ross Crane, assistant farm advisor for Orange county, was to give a progress report on studies of fertilization of vegetables.

Growers planned to organize to secure uniform contracts and better prices from canners and establish more uniform and satisfactory grading standards.

BIBLE SUNDAY PROCLAIMED

SACRAMENTO (AP).—Governor Merriam in a proclamation he issued declared "observance of universal Bible Sunday is one of the most important events in the church calendar."

He proclaimed Dec. 6 as Bible Sunday in California "to the end that we may become more familiar through study and meditation with the meaning and contents of the Scriptures."

Hearst, the Sultan of Somersault

WE NOMINATE Willie Hearst as the world's champion somersault turner. Early this month—before the Roosevelt landslide—the Sultan of San Simeon called the President every name he could think of, including "you and your fellow Communists."

With everything he had he soaked the President, both above and below the belt. He hurled false charges of radicalism, false charges about the social security taxes and false charges about dictatorship.

He held the President up as a traitor to the constitution and the enemy of liberty in the land of the free and the brave.

Nothing was left undone by Hearst in his effort to vilify and smear the President.

Yet today Mr. Hearst not only indicates that he "will support him again," but he actually hires the President's new son-in-law, John Boettiger, to publish the strike-ridden Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

That's turning somersaults faster than a Fourth of July pinwheel!

His nerve is more surprising when you learn what happened to his newspapers during the campaign.

The magazine New Republic, is responsible for the statement that the Chicago paper lost 39,000 readers during the year, the Milwaukee sheet dropped 8,000, and in general Hearst papers lost or made only slight gains while competitors moved rapidly ahead.

In announcing the Boettiger deal, Mr. Hearst says: "Mr. Boettiger will have absolute freedom in directing the editorial and business policies of the Post-Intelligencer."

With the strike now over after three months of shutdown, it may be presumed that Mr. Boettiger will put a new front on the policies of the Post-Intelligencer—a front which will be more nearly in accord with the election results Nov. 3 and the ideas of his father-in-law in the White House.

Perhaps the next step of Mr. Hearst will be to hire the Roosevelt boys and make them publishers of his papers.

He might even be able to lure Rex Tugwell away from the American Molasses company. And genial Jim Farley from his rumored job as movie industry czar. There's even a possibility that Mr. Hearst will give Mrs. Roosevelt the contract for writing a column in rebuttal to Alice Roosevelt Longworth! Time will tell.

It's doubtful, however, if these mighty somersaults will rattle-dazzle either the President or the public into believing the old boy is sincere in his new-born admiration for the Roosevelt family.

As someone has said: "You can fool some of the people all the time, and all of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

British paper says any opposition to the king's marrying Mrs. Simpson might force him from the throne. Still he got used to tumbling from his seat in the old days.

Symphony Orchestra Plans

MUSIC lovers are happy to hear that the Santa Ana symphony orchestra is continuing its successful career this year by enlarging to 90 members, under the capable direction of Elwood Bear.

This community owes its reputation as the leading musical city of the Southland to the hard work and superior talent of those who guide and make up its several music organizations.

An outstanding series of concerts—with appeal to all types of music lovers—is in store this winter from the symphony orchestra. The first concert will be Dec. 8. Plan now to attend. You'll be repaid by hours of musical enjoyment.

The Chinese are learning. They beat the Japanese to the papers in placing the blame for one of the latest border battles.

No Third Term for F. D. R.

THERE'LL be no attempt on the part of President Roosevelt for a third term. This statement appears in the current Colliers magazine under the signature of George Creel—who will be remembered as Upton Sinclair's unsuccessful rival for Democratic nomination for governor of California in 1934.

Creel quotes the President as follows: "On Jan. 21, 1941, when a new President takes over, I will be in Hyde Park having the time of my life."

Thus is spiked another pre-election rumor which few people ever believed.

Scientists have at last discovered that spinach is thoroughly overrated, thus catching up with the rest of us.

The West Is Fortunate

ALTHOUGH G-men have received much glory from their conquest of gangsters, the latter are still a plague in the East. So strong are gangsters in New York that the city has been forced to organize a new department in addition to the police force to fight racketeering. Copying best features of the federal bureau of investigation, the city's "G-man bureau" will act independently of the police to clean up racketeering.

Cities of the West may congratulate themselves upon the fact that racketeering has not reached the point where special departments must be organized to attack the evil.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Purely personal piffle: Nothing so comic as a cuckoo clock in action. Reading need: Mock "Walking Stick Papers" essays by Robert Cortes Holliday. No dramatic critic looks less the part or turns out more stalling phrases than Brooks Atkinson. Never knew a red-head with a fiery temper.

Theater's big moment: That little variety hall of Los Angeles Boulevard where Raquel Meller first crooned her violet song. I can put my Boston to sleep immediately, scratching his chest. Just like a shot in the arm. No tune inspires a marching fever like Victor Herbert's "March of the Toys."

Will Rogers is "contacted" more than any other figure by spiritualists. King Edward likes a spoonful of Cheddar cheese with breakfast fruit. If I have to hear a blues singer, I'll take Gertrude Nielsen. Destitute of reading, I can always pick up "Tom Sawyer" and have a swell evening.

Recurrent dream: Racing to catch a Santa Fe after getting out to walk at a water tower stop in New Mexico. Few writers get more fun out of life than Homer Croy. Ideal life: Three months in New York, three in California or Florida, three in Europe and three in a small town.

Treasured note for the scrapbook from David Belasco: "You've pleased as many as any newspaper writer I know and wounded fewer." Memorable breakfast spot: A Michigan avenue window table at the Chicago Blackstone. I have to dial out when that fool in the Olsen and Johnson team starts laughing or I'm in stitches. Every time I come across "chauvinistic" I have to look it up. The first name of the only lion hunter I ever met was Evelyn. My guess for the 1940 Republican presidential nominee: Senator Vandenberg of Michigan.

Choice pudding: Chocolate covered with thick cream and a chocolate éclair on the side. High notch in swank: Pulling up at that special Waldorf railroad siding in a private car. Alice Longworth and Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt each turning out a column a day in journalism's most modern feminine note. In our day, they would have settled a school strike with "a dose of birch tea." Grace LaRocca is writing an autobiography.

Once I got as far as having a pill rolled for an opium pipe—just for a lark—but backed out. Two reporters with me went the distance and were they sick and thirty for two days. Being different note: Most of Jerome Kern's tunes ring the bell with me. Four times in my life, events affecting my entire career have taken place around 5 o'clock. I could never laugh at the artistry of Bert Williams. To me he was poignantly sad. All the English I know has been acquired through friendly corrections. For the true flavor of Broadway—Lindy's, Park avenue the Colony and Lower East Side the Cafe Royal. A 25-year quest has failed to discover the real middle west soupy hash in New York. Or an honest to goodness home-made apple pie. No one in the motion picture business ever impressed me as shrewd as the late Irving Thalberg. Or nothing up my blood pressure like someone phoning: "I must see you at once about something very private." I always expect the worst.

A cabinet member and a supreme court justice are Amos 'n' Andy fans. Octavus Roy Cohen likes to go to the movies to be "cuted" by Shirley Temple. Maurice Chevalier is the only fellow I ever knew to wear a deep blue shirt and a blood red tie and look smart. And if there's anybody who can top King Edward's jauntness in a sport coat I've never seen them. Fred Astaire and Robert Benchley could swap voices and no one would know the difference. The nearest in brief after dinner speeches to reality in my ears was delivered by Frank Crowninshield.

In 23 years of writing for newspapers and magazines I have not once been asked to write anything but what I pleased. For years I couldn't abide grapefruit, now I can't get enough of it.

One of the slickest fellows I ever saw in full evening dress was a young ranchman from Fargo, N. D. Attractive name among the cartoonists: Fontaine Fox. Like him or not, Postmaster Farley showed I knew how to take it without losing his temper. I have yet to see the man who did not beam when he saw Brown Betty pudding being passed around for dessert.

Pressed metal bathtubs and bathroom fixtures, so light in weight that one man can carry a bathtub with ease, have been placed on the market. Unit by unit, these fixtures weigh just about one-third what the heavy cast-iron bathtubs or sink weighs. These new fixtures will prove important in homes which need additional beams and supports are not sturdy enough to hold up the heavyweight old-type bathroom fixtures.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

(Editor's note: The brass ring, bestowed by Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen upon those "who can ride the Washington Merry-Go-Round without losing their heads or their sense of humor," goes this week to Vice President John Nance Garner. It is "good for one free ride on The Washington Merry-Go-Round.")

WASHINGTON.—The boys who keep their ears to the ground sat up and took notice the other day when Vice President Jack Garner broke into the news on the occasion of his sixty-seventh birthday.

The fact that the stocky, shaggy-browed Texan was nearing thirty score and ten was not the cause of their curiosity. Nothing as simple as that. What excited their interest was Garner's casual disclosure that he would return to Washington around Dec. 1.

To the political gentry that remark carried much inner meaning. They knew that Garner never returns for a session of congress until the last moment. He likes his fishing and hunting, and general leisurely existence at his home in Uvalde, too much to hasten back to the capital unless there is something in the wind.

There is something in the wind—in fact, several things. Garner is returning to Washington ahead of his usual schedule at the express request of the President.

Before sailing for South America, Roosevelt talked with Garner by long distance phone and asked him to be in Washington by Dec. 1. On that day the President steps on foreign soil, in Buenos Aires, and with Secretary of State Hull also out of the country he deemed it desirable to have Garner on hand in the capital.

Another, and perhaps even more important reason, for wanting Garner in Washington is the hot behind-the-scenes fight over the Democratic floor leadership of the house.

The administration choice for the job is Representative Sam Rayburn of Texas. No left-winger, Rayburn nevertheless has been 100 per cent loyal to the President. Also, he is one of the ablest and most experienced parliamentarians in congress, with the knack of working harmoniously with others.

Garner and Rayburn are old friends. When the vice president returns to Washington he will take up the cudgels for his old house colleague.

In his discreet and deft way, Garner will act for the President in the situation in a manner that the President is not in a position to adopt himself.

ONE-SPEECH JOHNNY
His Uvalde cronies know how reluctantly Garner leaves his pleasant, wide-verandahed home. Forty-one years of office-holding, all but a few in Capitol Hill, have wearied him of the trappings and clamor of public life and made him treasure the quiet, simple companionship of his few home-town intimates.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

NOV. 28, 1911

Ernest Beard, formerly well known in this city, was in Santa Ana today calling upon old friends and demonstrating the good qualities of what seemed to be the best and latest thing out in the line of a low-priced automobile. This is the "Metz 22" roadster. There is nothing small about it except the price, $550.

Monday, Dec. 4, is the last day on which you can pay your city taxes. After that date the penalty of 5 per cent will be added. George S. Wilson, ex-officio city tax collector.

The Art Study club will meet tomorrow evening at 7:30 p. m. with Miss Alexander, 1119 French street, with the subject being "Greco-Roman Art."

F. J. Rogers, president of the California Oil company, went to Los Angeles today to attend a meeting. His company is making plans to lease its land for drilling.

R. L. Huffman has traded his eight-room home in Santa Ana for a ranch in Escondido owned by H. L. Howard. Mr. Howard will come here next week to take possession.

Charles Bellac has returned to Santa Ana to remain. He has been working on the C. C. Chapman ranch at Placencia for the past three years.

One Man's Opinion

EDITOR'S NOTE—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

War Mangers' Predictions Fail to Stick

THE WAR MONGERS are simply unable to make predictions that will stick. Startled by every rustle in Europe they shout about the horrors of immediate conflict. Mistaking superficial appearances for deep-seated movements they expect momentarily that the dogs of war have slipped their leashes. But real evidence shows that the usual impending clouds are less portentous now than they have been for some considerable time.

Such prophets regard Mussolini as playing dangerously with the fate of Europe. In spite of all his bluff and bluster, however, Il Duce is comparatively harmless. The one condition that every European ministry fears is national isolation. And Italy, today, is painfully isolated, financially, commercially, diplomatically. Italian finances are wretchedly low and Italian credit has no international standing. Mussolini's war of aggression in Ethiopia is not settled. Recent revolts indicate that many powerful tribes in that hostile land haven't yet heard that Italy has conquered that country. Mussolini's boast of eight million men under arms is absurdly silly. And even if it were true, poverty-stricken Italy could never endure for a few weeks the crushing burden of supporting eight million men under arms.

Commercially, Italy does not cut a large figure and by every logical process of reasoning never can be a very important. All of her glamorous history, dazzling

What Other Editors Say

CAMPAIGN COULD FORCE CHILD LABOR MEASURE (Riverside Enterprise)

While there is discussion about constitutional changes to better promote the social welfare movement, why not a little intensive campaign in behalf of the child labor amendment?

Ratification is required by 12 more states. None of the southern states, where the Democratic party is particularly strong, has ratified. Why not a movement under the auspices of the Democratic party to secure ratification for the child labor amendment? So few national leaders are now willing to be known as opponents of the child labor amendment it would seem that ratification could be quickly accomplished by turning on the bright white light of publicity.

Howdy, folks! It will soon be time for sports experts to select their all-American football teams.

With every coach, wire association, sports editor and umpire selecting an all-American team, it's a poor player who doesn't land on some list.

Skinny Skribbles

And the vehicle code speaks thusly in regard to the pedestrians' rights at crosswalks, where the marking has been set: Sec. 560a: "Pedestrians' right of way at crosswalks. The driver of a vehicle shall yield the right of way to the pedestrian crossing the roadway within any marked crosswalk or within any unmarked crosswalk at an intersection, except as otherwise provided in this chapter. (b) Whenever any vehicle has stopped at a marked crosswalk or at any unmarked crosswalk at an intersection to permit a pedestrian to cross the roadway the driver of any other vehicle approaching from the rear shall not overtake and pass such a stopped vehicle."

Best thing about Thanksgiving so far as my experience is concerned, was the fact that no one mentioned the election.

My favorite crosswalk sign at Fifth and Main is numbered among the traffic casualties. Some one knocked it off the pedestal, and the last time I saw it was at the curb, bruised and fractured. But it was a good friend while it lasted. Many compliments were paid to the silent protector as the pedestrian, motivated from one side of the street to the other, Hope Sergeant Hershey does not get discouraged and abandon the idea. Put up another sign. Someone will probably knock it down again, but there will come a time when the assault will be resisted, and the assailant caught, either by the patrolman or the undertaker.

Most all of my friends report a happy Thanksgiving day without any culinary casualties. Only one reported having a little trouble keeping the kitchen sink from turning round.

Several loyal and appreciative friends of Frank Denney are trying to persuade him to enter the calf roping contest in Tex Blund's rodeo to be held today and Sunday at the fair grounds. Denney's friends insist that if he can stay on the bronco he can rope the calf. Staying on seems to be the greatest difficulty. The calf won't bother him much. The brevity of Denney's bronco experience seems to me to offer the most attractive feature of the rodeo.

Oh, well, why kick about it. It was a good turkey it ought to last several days.

The suggestion has been made by a man about town that The Journal add another feature to what he termed "the already popular Journal." He proposes a "Rubber Check" department, under which the names of those who toy with flexibility are enrolled in the halls of optimism. It's a good idea, only I wouldn't want to be the editor.

Next in order will be from the salad bowl to the Rose bowl. That will make an even more interesting dish than the most skillful chef can conceive.

I've been invited to so many post-mortem turkey dinners that the very name of a turkey is offensive. Now there is enough of most everything, except money, but the volume of left-over turkey far exceeds anything that has come within my observation, especially from the standpoint of invitations. Why, I've even heard about turkey from an eastern friend who said he invested in a Thanksgiving bird at 15 cents per pound. Until I received that information I thought the turkey which came under my unartistic carving proclivities was the finest I ever saw. Now I feel different about it.

John B. Kennedy, popular radio commentator, interviews William O'Neil, president and general manager of the General Tire Company, about "Safe Motoring on American Highways." The casual reader will admit the subject is not only timely, but of such vital statistical value that it is claiming the best thought of traffic officials. One of the startling statements made in the interview was the reply Mr. O'Neil made to the question of unremitting public education. He said: "Thomas P. Henry, president of the American Automobile Association, declares that if the present trend continues, 77 out of every 100 high school children will be killed or injured in traffic accidents." "That is a ghastly prediction," replied Mr. Kennedy, but one only has to follow the ever increasing casualty lists to admit that the safety of not only the children is gradually diminishing, but everyone using the highways is having his percentage of safety reduced by the careless and inebriated driver. There is a remedy for this situation if it was accepted, but having been rejected more than 2000 years ago, it is a sad admission to say that it will in all probability be rejected—it is the Golden Rule as applied to the highways.
